BATTLE RAGES FOR GREAT WALL PASS TO JEHOL PROVINCE

Fighting, Started in Early Morning, Continues Through Afternoon—Airplanes Assist Attackers With Bombs on Chinese Lines—Manchukuo Forces Acting With Japanese

PEIPING, Jan. 10 (AP).—A battle between the Japanese and Chinese forces for possession of Chiumenekow Pass in the Great Wall of China, one of the important gateways leading from China into the Province of Jehol, got under way this morning and still was raging this afternoon.

The Japanese advance, in which cavalry, infantry and artillery participated, started at 6 a.m. The first fighting was with Chinese cavalry.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Delayed despatches from General Ho Chu-Kuo, Chinese commander, said the fighting still was going on at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Four Japanese airplanes were assisting the attackers by bombing the Chinese lines. The assault column contained forces of the Government of Manchukuo as well as regular Japanese.

Manchurian headquarters in Peiping reported that at 5 o'clock this afternoon a Chinese cavalry brigade still held the southern end of the pass and at that point there had been as yet no fighting with the Japanese.

FULL FORCE TODAY

Chinese officials expected that the full force of the Japanese drive to gain possession of the pass would be felt tomorrow. General Ho issued orders to his forces to stand their ground. Chiumenekow Pass is fourteen miles north of Shanhaikwan.

Everything was reported quiet today in the vicinity of Shanhaikwan, where Japanese and Chinese forces have taken up defensive positions.

INVASION PLAN DENIED

TOKIO, Jan. 11 (AP).—The war office declared today that at present there is no intention of extending operations at the Great Wall pass of Chiumenekow farther southward than the Great Wall and emphatically denied that an in-

LEGAL ACTION BEING STARTED

City of Calgary Facing Suit for Non-Payment of Exchange

CALGARY, Jan. 10 (CP).—First definite steps to take legal action against Calgary to collect adverse exchange which the city refused to pay in meeting debenture payments exceeding $2,000,000 are under way, civic officials announced tonight.

Disclosure of the action was made in a letter to F. S. Buchan, city treasurer, from the Montclair Trust Company, of Montclair, N.J., holder of an undetermined amount of the city of Calgary debenture issue which matured January 1. The step was anticipated by the city when it refused to pay adverse United States exchange charges after failing to obtain gold at par from the Federal Government.

GROUP PLANS SUIT

The Montclair company asked for the adverse exchange payment "before we place our bonds in the hands of a group which, we understand, are about to take legal action against your city."

Of the dozens of letters of protest and commendation of the city's action in declining to meet $300,000 in exchange costs involved if payment of the debentures was not made in United States funds, the one from the Montclair company was the first to indicate legal steps to collect were being taken. Payment of the debenture principal and interest in full in Canadian funds is being tendered, but the city refuses to pay additional costs of exchange.

THREE ALLEGED BANDITS TAKEN

CALGARY, Jan. 10 (CP).—Police today had arrested three men, alleged to be the "confectionery store" bandits who perpetrated four holdups here during the last three weeks. The men are Herbert Bergstrom, Leo McLeod and Richard Rogers.

Bergstrom and Rogers are charged with armed robbery of a confectionery store January 5 when $6 was obtained from the woman proprietor. Bergstrom and McLeod are charged with the holdup of a confectionery store on December 30, when another lady proprietor was relieved of $15; another on December 17, when $20 was obtained, and a third on the same night, when no loot was secured.

IS READY TO CALL TROOPS

Chief of Free State Civil Guard Insists on Peaceful Meetings

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 10 (CP).—General Owen O'Duffy, chief of the Civil Guard, said tonight if other efforts to guarantee peace and freedom of speech during the remainder of the Free State election campaign failed, he would call on the army for assistance.

At Navan, in County Meath, President Eamon de Valera addressed a large orderly meeting and appealed for peace and quiet at all meetings. He asked that his opponents be given an opportunity of stating their case without disturbances.

"If you want to punish them for their wrongs, the best thing you can do is keep away from their meetings," he said.

DEFENDS BOUNTIES

The President attacked critics of his Government who declared the soil of Ireland was unsuitable for wheat growing and that the policy of giving wheat bounties was not a good one.

In past generations, he said, there were many acres of land in Ireland under cultivation to wheat, which was raised so successfully that the country even exported some of it.

"It has been grown before, and we can grow it again," he declared. "It is better to pay our farmers for growing it than to give the money to foreigners."

COMEDY OF CAVAN

The whole country was laughing tonight over the comedy of Cavan. In brilliant sunshine candidates of the Republican and National parties and the National Farmers' League sought to convey their causes to the constituents of Cavan at a big open-air meeting.

They made the mistake, however, of placing their platforms too close together.

Speakers for former President William T. Cosgrave found themselves battling to be heard above the din of hecklers for De Valera, while the Republicans had to struggle against disparaging shouts from the farmers.

MAN IS HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Vancouver Merchant Bound and Beaten by Bandits and Robbed of Four Cents

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10. — Three men entered Craig's clothing store, Main Street, about 2 p.m. today, approached R. Craig, proprietor, pushed a black "something-or-other" against his ribs and told him to keep quiet.

One of the men bound Craig's hands with a short piece of twine, and he was escorted to the rear of his store, and there hit over the head with a blunt instrument several times.

They went through Craig's pockets and took out four cents.

Constable W. Smith arrived on the scene in a prowler car.

Sam Sanderson, no fixed address, was arrested, charged with robbery with violence.

HURT IN EXPLOSION AT SILK FACTORY

RATHENOW, Germany, Jan. 10 (AP).—Several persons were said to have been injured today in an explosion at the Permnits works of the I. G. Farben artificial silk plant.

Last month, eight men were killed and more than a score were hurt in a similar accident.

Palatial Liner Destroyed by Flames

SENT by telephoto and fast mail, this photograph shows the luxurious French liner Atlantique as the palatial ship was swept by fire in the English Channel January 4. Nineteen members of her crew lost their lives, and the rest of her crew of more than 200 were picked up by four rescue ships. The Atlantique was valued at $18,000,000, and was on her way to Cherbourg for annual overhaul when the disastrous fire broke out. The charred hull was later towed to Cherbourg, where surveyors are determining whether repairs are possible.

Committee Hears Suggestions for Pension Control

Col. W. W. Foster, Representing Legion in British Columbia, Advocates Amalgamation of Tribunal and Appeal Court—T. A. Barnard Supports Plan Advanced by Fellow Executive

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—Suggestions for improving the operation of machinery which controls pension matters, together with recommendations designed to speed up that operation and at the same time institute changes to that end, were heard by the joint committee investigating administration of the Pension Act from a number of witnesses here today.

Five executives of the Canadian Legion presented their testimony. Two were from British Columbia, Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and T. A. Barnard; two from Ontario, Lieut.-Col. F. J. Picking, of St. Thomas, and Macintyre Hood, Oshawa, while Alex. Walker, of Calgary, voiced the sentiments of Alberta.

REGIONAL TRIBUNALS

That the present tribunal be resolved into ten regional tribunals, each with a quorum of one, was a suggestion urged by Mr. Hood. He also stressed that some intermediate body should be set up in order to decide whether a case decided upon by the tribunal may or may not be appealed.

Amalgamation of the pension tribunal and the pension appeal court into one body was advocated

BRITISH TROOPS IN RAJPUTANA

Recalcitrant Moslems Giving Trouble—Native Ruler Appeals for Aid

RAJPUTANA, Northern India, Jan 10 (CP).—One thousand British troops arrived here today to reinforce state soldiers harrassed by anti-Government activities of recalcitrant Moslems, and were moved at once to principal areas of disturbances.

An airplane was used today to reconnoitre the district occupied by rebels with a view to facilitating military operations which, authorities hope, will drive the insurrectionists from their strongholds. Four armored cars were held in readiness for immediate action.

Reports reaching here from Ramgarh and Godindgarh today led to considerable uneasiness.

APPEALS FOR AID

Factional disorders between Moslems and Hindus broke out in the small native state of Alwar about a week ago when Hindus refused to join anti-Government activities of the Moslems.

Numerous Hindu dwellings and shops were smashed and looted in various parts of the country and the movement appeared to be gaining such headway that the Maharaja Sir Singhi Bahadur appealed for aid from British Indian authorities, believing his own forces inadequate to cope with the situation.

AGED MAN BURNED TO DEATH

CHILLIWACK, Jan. 10 (CP).—James Henry Harrison, seventy-seven, veteran of the Riel Rebellion and resident of the Chilliwack district for the past twenty years, lost his life last night in a fire of unknown origin which destroyed his home on the McGrath Road, East Chilliwack.

Canada Expands Overseas Apple Trade by Pact

EMPIRE perference has some substantial blessings, according to figures made available yesterday for the shipment of British Columbia apples to Britain. Growers of the Okanagan Valley have been advised through their London contacts that 723,000 boxes of apples moved to the British market this Winter, compared with 651,000 boxes supplied by United States shippers, a complete reversal of the former proportions shipped from this coast.

In 1931, British Columbia apples to the same market amounted to 200,000 boxes, compared with 759,000 shipped from United States points. Both sets of figures were for the period November 1 to December 27. All Canadian shipments to Britain were 907,000 boxes in 1930, 787,000 in 1931, and 1,279,000 boxes in 1932, it is stated.

AUSTRALIA-BOUND AIRMAN MISSING

Hinkler Unreported Since Leaving England Four Days Ago in Quest of Record

LONDON, Jan. 11 (CP).—Four days had elapsed today since Squadron-Leader Bert Hinkler, British transatlantic flyer, took off from Feltham Aerodrome on a projected record flight to Australia, and authorities here were still without word of his whereabouts.

Hinkler, who was flying the same Canadian-built plane in which he hopped the South Atlantic in 1931, was expected to make his first landing at Brindisi, on the southeast coast of Italy.

His absence occasioned little anxiety, as he has a known penchant for conducting his flight with as little publicity as possible.

Alberta Legislature To Open February 9

EDMONTON, Jan. 10 (CP). — Opening date of the Alberta Legislature will be February 9, it was announced by Premier Brownlee today. This is one week later than the date tentatively set some time ago. The postponement is due to uncertainty as to when the Dominion-Provincial Conference in Ottawa will finish.

Holds Confidence Sorely Needed to Revitalize Trade

Hon. R. W. Bruhn Believes Unemployment Insurance Is Coming in Some Form—Constructive Measures Required to Overcome Obstacles

"THERE is nothing wrong with our country, save our habit of looking at it with near-vision glasses. Canada is essentially sound; but what we require throughout Canada, and throughout the world for that matter, is a little more confidence in the future, and a little less shaking in the present," Hon. R. W. Bruhn told Saanich Conservatives last evening.

The Minister of Public Works gave a stirring address before the central association of the district, and was warmly received.

"It is true that hard times came like a cloud to darken our days, but that is only a temporary lull in our programme and when recovery sets in we will advance to new ground not won before. The future belongs to the man and the woman who has the courage to push ahead under present conditions. Painful as the present is, it is only a temporary rest on our journey to better days and better ways, where, with the richness of nature, there will be plenty for all, and present fears will be forgotten," Mr. Bruhn continued.

NEED OF WORLD REMEDY

"If man's courage has faltered, I believe it is just for a moment. Bold and constructive forms of remedy are necessary, and these cannot come from one country alone, but must arise from nation acting with nation.

"After all, we are probably the most fortunate generation of all in the world. Nature has endowed us with her richest gifts. Science has

Fossils of Pre-Historic Animals in Saskatchewan

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—Discovery of a new locality for fossil mammals in Canada is announced by Dr. L. S. Russell and Dr. R. T. D. Wickenden of the Geological Survey, Department of Mines, Ottawa.

Working in the vicinity of Swift Current, Sask., these two Government palaeontologists obtained a small collection of fossil teeth, which proved to represent animals of late Eocene times, not previously found in Canada.

The Saskatchewan collection includes teeth of a rhinoceros, of titanotheres (large, horn-bearing beasts), of a three-toed horse, a primitive antelope-like creature, and a forerunner of the squirrel.

Most interesting is a single rabbit tooth, one of the oldest known records of such animals.

Gold Belt Traverses B.C. Nine Hundred Miles Says Minister

Hon. W. A. McKenzie Calls Attention to Fact Most Important Recoveries Have Been Made in Two Hundred and Fifty-Mile Strip Extending From Boundary to Yukon

"THE remarkable discoveries and high values produced within the past year by the Pioneer Mines at Bridge River is most gratifying," declared Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, in discussing the report from the Mainland that a cubic foot of Premier ore taken from that mine has a reputed worth of $7,500 in gold.

"The amazing fact is not that the mine is producing lumps of almost solid gold, but that the faith of the pioneer miners of British Columbia is being justified. Bridge River and the Lillooet district and the Quesnel and Barkerville areas of British Columbia were tested out by early miners. They found lode gold, but they could not arouse the interest of the public to support them in the development of their finds. Now, however, when progressive and enterprising men, with modern means of gold recovery are undertaking the development of properties in these districts, they find that the dreams of the pioneers are justified.

"British Columbia's future is bright as a great producer of gold.

FOLLOW PIONEERS

"I would say to those who are interested in making new discoveries of both lode and placer that they can do no better than to follow the paths blazed for them by the pioneers.

"There is an outstanding feature of our gold deposits," the minister pointed out, "that is worth real consideration. It is that apparently a belt 250 miles in width and 900 miles in length cuts diagonally across British Columbia, and that the important placer discoveries have nearly all been within this belt. Similarly, the large gold producers from quartz mining have been located in this broad yellow band.

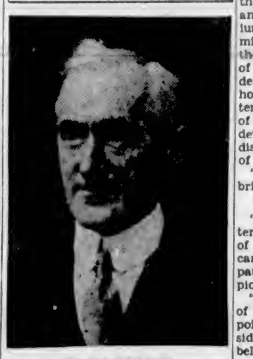

"Let us examine it," he said, pointing to a mineralogical map of the placers of British Columbia. "The belt parallels the Rocky Mountains, starting below Fernie, and extends westward to Harrison Lake. It cuts across the province, following the trend of the Rockies and into the Yukon.

EVIDENCES OF WEALTH

"Within this belt, starting at the international boundary, we find that placers were worked about Fort Steele and around Fernie. Then there were the gold reefs of the

Provincial Curator Chosen to Advise

FRANCIS KERMODE

Curator of Provincial Museum, who has been asked by the Carnegie Corporation to act on an advisory committee studying Canadian museum needs informally for the New York foundation, as one of five men in Canada selected for the purpose.

VICTORIA MAN IS HONORED

Francis Kermode Picked by Carnegie Corporation for Advisory Panel

British Columbia was honored yesterday by the Carnegie Corporation, of New York, in selecting Francis Kermode, curator of the Provincial Museum, as one of the five men in Canada it has asked to sit on an informal committee to advise it on opportunities for service in the up-building of Canadian museums. With the consent of the Provincial Government, highly honored by the choice, Mr. Kermode will accept.

In the invitation to Mr. Kermode, the Carnegie Corporation stated it was following the advice of Sir Henry Miers and S. F. Markham, M.P., who recently made a thorough survey of Canadian museums for the corporation, which is believed to be considering a policy of assistance similar to that adopted in connection with library matters, where its services are world-wide.

OTHERS SELECTED

The proposal is that a small group of informed persons be set up in Canada for the purpose of informally discussing Canadian museum problems and proposals, with a view to advising the corporation as to significant opportunities for its service. In addition to Mr. Kermode, four others well known in Canadian life were named. These were: Eric Brown, director of the National Art Museum; H. O. McCurry, assistant director of the same institution; E. L. Judah, director of the Ethnological Museum at McGill University, Montreal; and J. C. Webster, of Shediac, Saint John, N.B. Mr. Kermode has been identified with the Provincial Museum at Victoria for a long term of years, and as its curator is widely known throughout Canada.

Hon. S. L. Howe, in whose department the upkeep and care of the museum comes, expressed the warmest satisfaction yesterday at the selection of Mr. Kermode for the honor. The Provincial Museum at Victoria was recently classed by Sir Henry Miers and Mr. Markham as the best of its kind in Canada, and praise extended to Mr. Kermode at that time was wholly merited, he said.

CAUGHT WHILE DRINKING MILK

Manhunt for Murderer Through Thick Brush Ends in Dairy

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Jan. 10 (CP).—Worn and weary from exposure and exertion, Bill Antonovitch tonight lies in jail here under heavy guard facing charges of murder and wounding with intent. Object of a manhunt which extended for miles through thick brush, Antonovitch was arrested by police today as he drank a bottle of milk at a dairy nine miles from here.

DAIRYMAN ALERT

Alertness of a dairy owner, J. B. Greuix, was responsible for the capture of Antonovitch, who is alleged to have yesterday shot and killed Mrs. Annie Munda and Mrs. F. Manasuik, and wounded Bill Munda and Fred Cunningham, a boarder at the Manasuik home, in a brief but tragic shooting affray on a busy street.

Grouix saw Antonovitch enter the dairy yard, staggering and dirty. Before the wanted man could reach shelter, the dairy owner had communicated with Chief of Police William Shane.

INSTANTLY OVERPOWERED

Provincial and municipal police rushed to the scene immediately. Antonovitch had a bottle of milk raised to his lips as they arrived. They gave him no chance, overpowering him instantly. The alleged slayer was armed with a .25 calibre automatic pistol, they said, and carried spare ammunition in a handkerchief.

Thus ended the search for Antonovitch, who came here from Winnipeg two years ago. He was friendly with Annie Munda for some time. Bill Munda appeared on the scene, also from Winnipeg, and three ago married Annie. According to friends of Antonovitch, the man had been moody for some days.

LIVES IN DANGER

Fred Cuningham and Manda are still in a dangerous condition. Cuningham, suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen, is fighting for life. Munda, wounded in the head, stands the best chance of recovery, hospital attendants believed.

BURNABY STAFF RETAIN POSTS

Commissioner John Bennett Affirms Municipal Officers as His First Act

Ex-Alderman John Bennett, of Vancouver, now commissioner of Burnaby Municipality, had his first official order ratified by the Government yesterday. The order reaffirms in their posts all the main executive officers of the district municipality, from the city clerk to the auditor. The staff so named will continue in their posts, at the same salaries paid before the commissionership was set up, it is provided.

Those affirmed in their posts were A. G. Moore, municipal clerk; Charles B. Brown, deputy municipal clerk; Richard Bolton, collector and treasurer; Francis J. Rundle, deputy treasurer; George L. Southwell, deputy municipal engineer; William P. Philps, assessor; William Griffiths, auditor; Alister C. Bell, electrical and plumbing inspector; Dr. William F. Sager, medical health officer, and W. G. McQuarrie, K.C., consultant solicitor.

Both in connection with Burnaby Municipality, and also with North Vancouver District, the commissioners in charge have been asked to prepare a report for the bondholders, which will be issued by the Government in due course. Preliminary and informal reports have been made by Mr. Bennett and also C. E. Tisdall, commissioner for North Vancouver District, to the Attorney-General's Department.

Hoover's Word to Laval Important Issue in Paris

PARIS, Jan. 10 (AP).—Exactly what President Herbert Hoover said to former Premier Pierre Laval when they discussed the debts in Washington in 1931 became an important issued today as Parliament reconvened for a session which may bring the downfall of the Government.

Senator Damecour, dean of the Upper House, declared in the Senate that the American President clearly informed M. Laval the United States would proceed with revision of the debts if France consented to reduce her reparations claims against Germany.

Discussion of the debt issue was revived as the Government faced a dangerous parliamentary situation, growing out of Finance Minister Cheron's proposals to balance the budget by providing new taxes amounting to 3,483,000,000 francs ($218,120,000).

In Chamber lobbies it was reported the Cabinet itself might split in the finance proposals at tomorrow's ministerial council.

STUBBS HEARING WILL OPEN TODAY

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10 (CP).—E. J. McMurray, K.C., counsel for Judge L. St. George Stubbs, Manitoba senior County Court judge, in the inquiry into the latter's judicial acts, has given notice he intends to take preliminary objections to the jurisdiction of Mr. Justice Frank Ford, of the Alberta Supreme Court, conducting the inquiry, when it opens here tomorrow.

Chief Justice J. E. P. Prendergast, of the Manitoba Court of Appeal, will be one of the First witnesses to appear before the inquiry started by the Federal Department of Justice on the complaint of Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba.

Appeal Court Opens Sitting Here With Long List of Cases

Judgments in Appeals Heard at Vancouver Announced—Twenty Criminal Applications to Be Heard—Civil List Now Contains Fifteen

WITH thirty-five appeals on the list, twenty of them criminal, the British Columbia Court of Appeal opened its Victoria sitting at the Bastion Street Courthouse yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, and, after giving judgment in appeals heard at the Vancouver session, settled down to at least two weeks' work to dispose of the cases to come before it.

Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald presided with the following on the bench: Mr. Justice Archer Martin, Mr. Justice A. E. McPhillips, and Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald. Mr. Justice W. A. Galliher was not on the bench yesterday.

JUDGMENTS ANNOUNCED

The Chief Justice delivered judgments of appeals from the Vancouver sitting as follows:

Marshman vs. Breadin, allowed.

Clark vs. National Fruit Co., dismissed. (Mr. Justice Galliher dissenting.)

Merrill Ring & Wilson vs. Workmen's Compensation Board, dismissed.

Corporation of Penticton vs. London Guarantee Company, allowed.

Cameron Lumber Co. vs. Insurance Companies, dismissed. (Chief Justice Macdonald dissenting. Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald would order a new trial.)

Rex vs. Muniess, dismissed.

Rex vs. Robinson, allowed.

Bland vs. Agnew, dismissed. (Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting.)

Workmen's Compensation Board vs. Sumas Oil & Gas Co., allowed.

Moro et al. vs. Lion Lumber Co., dismissed.

Dill vs. Catholic Children's Aid, allowed.

Riches vs. Corporation of Richmond, dismissed.

Lockyer vs. Lockyer, dismissed. (Mr. Justice Martin dissenting.)

CAMERON LUMBER WINS

The appeal of the Cameron Lumber Company versus The Mount Royal Assurance Company, the Home Fire & Marine Insurance Company, the Imperial Insurance Company, Fire Association of Philadelphia, Canada Security Assurance Company, Union Fire, Accident & General Insurance Company, and the Eagle Star & British Dominions Insurance Company, was one in which the insurance companies appealed a special jury decision in the Supreme Court of British Columbia over which Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald presided here. The amount involved was approximately $27,000. Alfred Bull, K.C., was counsel for the insurance companies, and E. C. Mayers, K.C., conducted the case for the lumber company.

AN INSURANCE CLAIM

This was an action by appellant to recover the amount claimed by it under policies insuring against loss during a total or partial suspension of business owing to the destruction or damage to its plant by fire. The loss insured against consisted of the fixed charges and expenses which must continue regardless of the fact that the operations of the company were suspended. The indemnity provided in the policies extended only to such fixed charges and expenses as would have been supplied from the company's earnings had it not been prevented by fire from operating. The loss recoverable under the policies was limited to the actual loss sustained, not exceeding one-three-hundredths of the amount insured, for each business day during which the loss continued. The experience of the business before the fire and the probable experience thereafter were to be taken into consideration.

Respondent's lumber manufacturing plant, saw mills and buildings had been destroyed by fire. The time required to replace the plant was fixed by the jury. The jury also found the specific amount which respondent would have earned per diem during the period of suspension.

COST OF PRODUCTION

The appellant submitted that the jury should find the real cost of production upon an estimate, by ordinary and approved bookkeeping methods, of the profit or loss for that period, and should take into account stock on hand at the beginning of the period, the inventory of stock at the close of the period and other expenses.

Respondent argued that a fixed arbitrary value of a specific amount per 1,000 feet of lumber and products should be placed upon the stock on hand at the beginning of the accounting period and the same specific amount at the end of the period, so long as the specific amount was not more than the market price. It was urged that the profit or loss could thus be ascertained, at all events with enough accuracy to answer reasonable requirements. "It was argued that it was impossible to estimate the actual cost of production of lumber at any particular time. The lumber might have been in stock for several years. It consisted of lumber of different dimensions varying in quality. The cost of production varied from $6 to $40 per 1,000 feet. Hence it was impossible to put any cost-production price on specific items in stock. The jury accepted the respondent's method of computation.

The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal, Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald holding that a new trial should be granted. Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald dissented from the judgment of the court.

MARSHAM AND BREADIN

In the appeal of Marsham vs. Breadin et al. (defendants), and Scott & Peden (respondent), was one in which Marsham's appeal was allowed by the court. The case was heard in the lower courts in Victoria. In this case the appellant was a judgment creditor and defendants and respondent were garnishees. Scott & Peden had purchased livestock from Breadin and others, but before delivery three of the animals were seized at the instance of Marsham. An issue was directed to determine whether or not a bill of sale under which the respondent claimed the animals was valid. It was held that it constituted a fraudulent preference and was void against the sheriff and the appellant.

The Court of Appeal held that the debt was attachable. The respondent had received the money from the Government because it held the bill of sale. The bill of sale being void against the appellant, the money was subject of a claim of demand within the meaning of Section 3 of the Attachment for Debts Act. It was a liability and an action could be maintained to recover it.

RIGHT TO ASSESS

The court dismissed the appeal of Merrill Ring & Wilson et al. vs. the Workmen's Compensation Board, in which the latter was the respondent.

The appellant contended that respondent had not complied with the provisions of Section 33 (2) of the Workmen's Compensation Act, inasmuch as amounts, in addition to the 1 cent per diem collected from workmen, as medical aid, was not provided by assessment upon employers generally engaged in all industries within the scope of the act, but by assessment on the different classes into which the industries are divided by Section 28 of the act, according to the risk involved.

Appellants' contention was based upon the wording of Section 33 (2) which provided that the additional amounts should be found "by assessment upon employers generally in all industries."

The Court of Appeal held that in order to ascertain the meaning of the section it was necessary to look at the relevant sections of the act. A clause belonging to part of a section could not be construed without looking at the context and considering the scope of the act and all other sections dealing with the same or cognate matters.

CLASS ASSESSMENT

Other sections of the act provide for assessment upon employers in each class provided for in Section 28. The general scheme of the act provides for assessment upon classes. The general wording in Section 33 would lead to a system of assessment far less fair and equitable and assessment is levied on employers generally although varied in an amount according to the class affected. The assessment is upon employers generally and all must contribute, but not necessarily the same amount.

Even a grammatical construction reasonably clear must give way if upon the whole it is evident from the context and other sections that it will not if strictly construed carry out the true purpose of the act. The clause in question should if possible be interpreted to avoid conflict with other provisions of the act dealing with the same subject matter. The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal.

The peremptory list for today follows:

Rex (R.), vs. Taffert (A.).
Rex (R.), vs. Adkin (A.).
Brown (A.), vs. C.P.R. (R.).
The King (R.), vs. Wo Ying Fung (A.).

equipped us as never before to take advantage of this heritage. All that is wanting is the courage and initiative to take hold. We are suffering, paradoxically enough, from maldistribution of an abundance sufficient to insure to each man and woman in the world a fair share of all that is needed for their maintenance and comfort."

SAYS PROVISION REQUIRED

Turning to the Ottawa conference, towards which British Columbia delegates will wend their way today, Mr. Bruhn gave it as his personal view that unemployment insurance would have to come, in one form or another.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the time has come when we must have some form of unemployment insurance, and a method of dealing with unemployment meanwhile. I sincerely hope that as a result of the Ottawa conference direct relief will be abandoned. I believe those who are in receipt of relief would prefer to give some return for it to the State. I said so at Ottawa last April, and I am more than ever convinced of it now," Mr. Bruhn averred.

The minister gave a brief review of policies followed by himself in regard to public works and relief since taking office, and showed that in spite of increased road mileage, maintenance costs in 1932 on British Columbia roads were less than in 1929.

RETURN ON INVESTMENT

There was the equivalent of a 5 per cent return on the investment of funds spent in road-making as unemployment relief. Motor licence fees and gasoline receipts increased 27 per cent as a result of these expenditures, and tourist traffic in 1931 had a gain of 12 per cent. Direct relief, he commented, paid no dividends.

Mr. Bruhn closed with a warm appreciation of the efforts being made by Premier Tolmie to direct the policy of the province in its most difficult times. Cessation of party strife and a union of all classes of citizens for the development of what was best in the interests of the country was required. Those professional politicians who put self before country would discover their error too late, he predicted. The public wanted deeds and not words, Mr. Bruhn concluded, to sustained applause.

Member of the Sir James Douglas School Parent-Teacher Association had the pleasure last evening of listening to an illustrated address by Major Kirkpatrick-Crocket on "Reminiscenes of the West Indies," E. B. Jones, president of the society, occupied the chair.

FINANCE IS MAIN ISSUE

Charles H. French, Seeking Reeveship, Promises Careful Administration

A platform which had as its predominating feature the promise of careful administration of municipal finances in preparing the budget and carrying out the ensuing year's work, was presented by Charles H. French, candidate for the Saanich reeveship, in two addresses given to ratepayers of Wards One and Three last night. The reeveship aspirants visited both ward meetings, giving practically the same talks at both.

Mr. French announced that his policy, if elected, would be to present a balanced budget by calculating revenue which the council would receive as far as possible. The council could not afford to spend money which the municipality did not have, he said. He stood for the encouragement of all movements which would improve social conditions, adding that he felt there were several openings in this line which might be improved upon.

Reiterating his statements to carefully consider finances to keep taxes at the lowest rate, Mr. French felt that this might be done with much thought, and did not think that the council in former years had increased the mill rate when it should have done to escape having a deficit for the year. He was in favor of making every effort to settle water accounts and keep them balanced monthly.

ENFORCE REGULATIONS

For the benefit of those who had been affected by the construction of unsightly barns and small homes without necessary sanitary conveniences, he thought it would be possible to enforce more rigidly building regulations to maintain this standard. If such a by-law were not in force, amendments should be made to call for such construction, he suggested. He was against borrowing, and favored the pay-as-you-go plan.

The annual statement of expenditures might be printed earlier, in plenty of time before an election, he thought.

If elected, he planned to urge on the Dominion Government unemployment insurance. Other planks of his platform included improving the appearance of the municipality, and thus make better citizens; the placing of as much reverted property as possible on a tax-paying basis, and the promotion of all movements toward justice and harmony. In conclusion, Mr. French stated he had no axe to grind and no political aspirations, but was desirous of serving the ratepayers as their reeve.

Reeve William Crouch, seeking re-election, reviewed Mr. French's platform, and indicated that each of the proposals it contained had also been the aim of the reeve and the council in the past. He presented brief statements of police and fire department costs during the past year, and referred to the abolition of certain services, including the library. The council was at present making efforts to have this renewed on the same basis as in unorganized territory, he said.

The reeve predicted an increase in the mill rate for 1933, but pointed out that a rate of forty-one mills would only necessitate the payment of a similar amount of taxes by the land owner, as under the present rate. There may be a slight increase in taxes, he said. Reviewing unemployment and relief costs, the reeve stated he was in favor of unemployment insurance. Relief had been paid to 1,680 workless last year and had cost $8,930 for November, he said. In appealing for a seventh term, he claimed the present was not the time to make a change, as Saanich was in an enviable financial position compared with other British Columbia municipalities.

JOHN REID

John Reid, workers' candidate for reeve, submitted a platform favoring the "recall" system, a graduated income tax on all incomes above $2,500 a year, to bear relief costs; establishment of a minimum relief scale of $3.20 a day; reorganization of the Municipal Hall staff, and the establishment of a clothing board to replace the present system of collecting clothing, funds for which would be provided by the income tax.

IS READY TO CALL TROOPS

TWO MEETINGS ABANDONED

Amid tremendous booing, hissing and roars of laughter two of the meetings were abandoned and the Republicans were left in possession of the field.

A total of 243 candidates had been chosen tonight by party conventions and the number was almost equally divided for and against adherence to the Anglo-Irish treaty of 1931.

The Republicans had chosen an even 100 candidates, and their Labor allies twenty-one. The solitary Communist, Jim Labkin, was counted pro-de Valera.

SIX WOMEN IN FIELD

The Nationalists already had eighty-five candidates in the field, the National Farmers and Ratepayers' Leagues twenty-five. Of eleven Independents, one was known definitely to favor the Nationalist cause. Six of the candidates are women.

Nominations will close tomorrow, and it was not expected the total number of candidates would exceed 250.

In the election campaign of last February 278 were nominated.

Police Find $3,000, Now Lawyers Sue

When police officers of the city of Vancouver found $3,000 in American gold coins hidden in the seat of an easy chair when they searched the home of Wong Chee after his arrest for assaulting his wife, they did not think they would become involved in a legal tangle in which it is taking four lawyers to endeavor to unravel.

But they did. It appears that both Wong Chee and his wife retained counsel, and each lawyer was to receive a retaining fee. The retaining fee was secured by an assignment against the gold coins in the custody of the police.

The lawyers went to the Supreme Court of British Columbia to present their claims, and the trial judge admitted the claim of each and directed the balance to be paid to the husband and wife as their joint property. The husband now says the money belongs to him and the wife claims it, while the city of Vancouver is sitting in, awaiting the next move.

Counsel for Wong Chee's wife sought to appeal to the Appeal Court here, the decision of the lower court judge, but he was refused, and the next move may be an application, based on the lower court judge's order, to pay counsel and return the money to the joint owners.

SEED EXHIBITION ENTRIES GAINING

Cecil Tice Announces Increased Interest in Show to Be Held Here Starting January 18

More entries than had been expected are being received for the seen and potato fair to be held in the Crystal Garden, January 18 to 21. This announcement was made last evening before the executive of the Junior Chamber of Commerce by Cecil Tice, secretary of the organization.

Mr. Tice went on to say that the exhibit will be more indicative of seed growing possibilities of the province than ever before. The exhibits of seed would be much more than those of potatoes.

Many noncompetitive displays were being prepared for the show, he said. Members of the executive of the Junior Chamber took tickets for the purpose of pressing the sale of these. Harold Palmer announced that the arrangements for the entertainment to be given in the evenings during the fair were now being made.

The question of action along the line of helping in the various schemes for aiding the unemployed, such as the human interest bonds, was left over until the next general meeting of the Junior Chamber, when the whole matter will be discussed.

The Legislature was started on its session by Hon. H. G. Carroll, Lieutenant-Governor, who read the Speech from the Throne.

Japan is still hopeful that the situation at Shanhaikwan, the Chinese city at the east end of the Great Wall, can be localized, the war office asserted.

Officials characterized as ridiculous the suggestion that a formal declaration of war was possible.

TRIBUTE PAID NOTED LEADER

Adam Bell Addresses Burns Club on Ramsay MacDonald—Life Outlined

"The most striking characteristic of Ramsay MacDonald's life has been the energy and zeal he has shown in the cause for social betterment and the establishment of peace: and who shall say that these are not the things for which a tired world is yearning today?"

This was the concluding note of an address given by Adam Bell, deputy Minister of Labor, and honorary vice-president of the Burns Club, to a large gathering of the Burns Club in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night.

Mr. Bell prefaced his remarks by saying he felt a man should not be judged famous until 100 years after his death, when his name and his works had withstood the crucible of time. In concluding, he said he would leave time to be the arbiter of the Prime Minister's fame, but his masterly address on the life of Ramsay MacDonald revealed a greatness that undoubtedly will echo through the ages.

HUMBLE BEGINNING

The speaker drew a picture of the Prime Minister's humble beginning. His early training in the home, church and school had left their marks upon the man. As a result of this environment, Ramsay MacDonald during his youth, "in poverty had been rich beyond avarice."

Mr. Bell told of Mr. MacDonald's early struggles. First the great leader felt that the cause of socialism might be advanced within the ranks of the Liberal party. Realizing how futile this was, he disassociated himself from the Liberals and endeavored to set up an independent Labor party. He was defeated several times before finally winning his way into Parliament as a representative of the Labor party. It was in 1893 that the Labor party was formed, and from that moment Mr. MacDonald set himself to the task of uniting the party with the leaders of the various trades unions.

FIRST REAL TEST

In 1924 the Labor party, Mr. Bell said, was given its first real test. Ramsay MacDonald was asked to form a Government, and in doing so he chose for himself the work of Foreign Secretary, besides that of Prime Minister. His work as a Foreign Secretary revealed that this was his forte. He endeavored to re-establish trade relations with Russia, and brought about a more friendly feeling between France, Belgium and Germany.

When his Government was defeated, Mr. MacDonald faced dissension among the Labor ranks, but rose above them and was again returned as leader of the party for which he had worked so hard. In 1931, however, came another parting of the ways. The Prime Minister, Mr. Bell declared, had never adopted the line of least resistance: and the financial crisis saw him taking the hardest route, namely, to achieve a National Government, in which his bitterest opponents became members of his Cabinet.

During the evening, a splendid programme of entertainment was rendered by Mrs. John Kyle, Mr. Anderson, vocalists, and a string sextette from Mrs. E. S. Foot's school of music. John Hosie presided as chairman.

COMMITTEE HEARS SUGGESTIONS FOR PENSION CONTROL

by Colonel Foster. The united court should then be vested with authority to decide with finality on matters of entitlement of claimants for pension. A court of appeal should be created, comprising purely professional men, he urged.

BOARD TO ASSESS

The matter of determining assessments, after entitlement had been decided, would come within the jurisdiction of the Board of Pension Commissioners.

Colonel Foster's plan was supported by Mr. Barnard, who leveled considerable criticism against the present machinery. The whole attitude of commission counsel towards pension applicants was wrong, Mr. Barnard said. He felt they should accept it as their duty to establish cases instead of conducting themselves as if they were "prosecuting murderers," he declared.

MUCH DISSATISFACTION

Incorrect diagnosis of applicants' condition was responsible for a great deal of dissatisfaction, said Mr. Barnard.

GOLD BELT TRAVERSES B.C. FOR NINE HUNDRED MILES, SAYS MINISTER

Kootenays, with Rossland's wealth of gold prominent in the quartz output. Going west again, we find that there were good gold values in the ore of Greenwood, and the placers of Rock Creek were noted in the sixties. Then we go on to the Similkameen, and again we find that pioneers worked placer ground with profit, while the lode deposits of Hedley were noted for the millions they produced.

"So we pass over to the Fraser, striking it about the entrance to the Harrison River, and the lowest point at which placer gold was recovered.

"Within this belt we have the old Okanagan placers of Cherry Creek and Kelowna, the gold of Tranquille Creek, near Kamloops, and all the lode indications between Kamloops and Golden. Then to the west of the Fraser, where Lillooet was located to serve the placer miners of Cayoosh Creek, we are developing new and magnificent gold quartz properties about Bridge River.

GOLDEN CARIBOO

"We follow up the Fraser and come to Quesnel, and then to Barkerville, a few miles from that stream. Here, over an area of roughly 2,000 square miles, millions upon millions of placer gold were recovered, and according to a recent report of an eminent geologist, ten times as much remains to be recovered from the gravels. We find that in this area early miners located scores of quartz ledges. The reports and the assays made in the sixties, seventies and eighties of the last century are unanimous that the veins carried satisfactory gold content. But mining costs in those days were high, and work was not carried to the point of shipping. It became the country that was forgotten—but today, with modern mining methods, modern scientific devices for the treatment of these ores—development has commenced again, and with most gratifying results.

"Now, let us proceed to the Northwest. We pass out of Cariboo to encounter the old gold ground of Omineca, with Manson Creek, Germansen Creek, and the other producing localities. And on the western extremity of our gold belt, we have the old-time placers of Lorne Creek, off the Skeena.

"Continuing, the belt includes not only the Telegraph Creek, the Dease Lake district and the Liard placers, and the wealth of Atlin, but it cuts across Portland Canal, including within its embrace Alice Arm and Stewart.

"And so, if you follow the belt through the Yukon, you will find that it included all the rich creeks of the Klondike."

CITIZENS OF VANCOUVER PLAN RELIEF

Thousands to Co-operate in Movement to Relieve Unemployment

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP). — The biggest attempt ever made in Vancouver to find work for men and women will be launched in a few weeks by a voluntary organization, comprising thirty-four city associations. Plans have been in the making since August.

It is stated 12,000 citizens are affiliated with the movement, and between 4,000 and 5,000 persons will be actively engaged in canvassing and other activities, when the campaign is under way.

First meeting of those interested was held in August on invitation of Harold Brown, president of Vancouver Board of Trade, when representatives of twenty-one leading business and service organizations discussed proposals to relieve the prevailing lack of employment.

MANY PLANS STUDIED

Committees were appointed to make an intensive study of what similar movements have accomplished in fifty centres on the continent, particularly on the United States side, the outcome of which, it was suggested, had been the means of placing an additional $50,000,000 in circulation.

As a result of the data received, the organization decided to go a step farther than similar associations in other cities and to include members of both sexes in the plan. In this connection the local Council of Women was interested.

PLAN SUMMARIZED

In summary the plan is as follows:

1. To secure pledges from citizens, industrialists, merchants, property owners and tenants, to undertake expenditure in a period of six months, on work that will provide eyployment.

2. To get these pledges by an organized, intensive canvass of homes, retail stores, wholesale establishments, offices, factories, and plants of every kind.

FREE EXPERT ADVICE

3. To provide free expert advice and estimates of cost for such work as inside decoration, painting, repairs, replacements, extensions, general improvements of premises and grounds, including gardens.

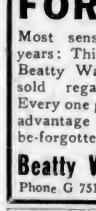

4. To "follow up" all pledges secured for the purpose of assuring that as much as possible of pledged work is done within the specified time of six months.

SALARY CUTS ARE RATIFIED

Policy of Curtailment and Retrenchment Reaffirmed in Government Order

To the accompaniment of further salary reductions in private businesses and in industry, the Government's order reducing civil service salaries between 3 and 5 per cent, for an average of about 3 per cent, was finally ratified yesterday. It is made retroactive to January 1, last, and will apply until the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1933.

Though the announcement was made by the Minister of Finance on Friday last, the actual order making the action final was signed yestreday. It was couched, in part, in the following terms:

RETRENCHMENT POLICY

Pursuant to the policy of retrenchment and curtailment of all public expenditures as set out—in the order approved on October 10, 1931, and in the estimates of expenditure for the fiscal year 1932-33, all salaries payable from the Consolidated Revenue Fund of the Province were reduced under authority of the order—approved April 1, 1932, in the proportions as therein set out. It is deemed necessary and desirable that the aforesaid salaries be further reduced—for the balance of the current fiscal year, effective January 1."

THE SCALE

Then follows the scale, showing total reductions, including first and second cuts lumped into one. The gross cut on salaries of $1,225 and under remains at 3 per cent; between $1,225 and $1,540, 5 per cent; between $1,540 and $1,850, 8 per cent; between $1,850 and $3,075, 10 per cent; between $3,075 and $4,300, 12 per cent; between $4,300 and $5,600, 15 per cent; and between $5,600 and the maximum range, 17 per cent. Salaries of $1,540 and under are unchanged by the new order, but their original cut stands.

BERTHA BROOKS APPEAL OUSTED

Woman Convicted of Having Drugs Must Serve Sentence of Court

Bertha Brooks, one time lessee of the Panama Hotel here, who was found guilty by a jury at the last Victoria assizes and sentenced by Chief Justice Morrison to three years in the penitentiary and a fine of $200, or an additional six months, for unlawful possession of drugs, lost her appeal to the Appeal Court of British Columbia yesterday when the court was unanimous in dismissing the plea for a new trial on the grounds of misdirection to the jury.

The trial and conviction of the woman followed a seizure of a quantity of opium and other drugs at the Panama Hotel on November 13, 1931. Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the appellant at yesterday's hearing of the appeal, and W. C. Moresby, K.C., appeared for the Crown, with R. A. Wootton for the Crown Dominion.

APPEAL GROUNDS

The case was the first to be proceeded with after motions had been heard by the Appeal Court bench shortly before the noon hour. Mr. Higgins based his appeal on the ground that the Chief Justice, in his direction to the jury on points of law, had failed to draw to the attention of the jury the statutory protection given to the accused to extricate herself from the onus of proof. This protection is given under Section 17, Chapter 49, Dominion Statutes of 1929, and Mr. Higgins contended the whole section should have been read to the jury, which, if there had been sufficient evidence to warrant the removal of the burden of proof from the shoulders of the accused to those of the Crown, the jury should have known of the section of the act which gives that right.

REVIEWS EVIDENCE

In dismissing the appeal, the court was agreed that the point raised by Mr. Higgins was well taken, but after reviewing the evidence, the Court of Appeal had come to the conclusion that there had been no miscarriage of justice in this particular case as the evidence precluded any possibility of convincing a jury that the drugs, so found, were not in the possession of the accused at the time of the seizure. The court did not see that anything would be gained by directing a new trial, and accordingly dismissed the appeal.

There were some elements in the case that brought it within the zone of general interest. For instance, Mrs. Brooks maintained that the parcel sent to the hotel and addressed to Betty Wilson had been sent to trap her and that the opium found on the premises did not belong to her and she had no knowledge of it being in the hotel.

GUILTY BY JURY

At the first trial at the Assize Court in the Spring of 1932, the accused was brought into court on a stretcher and attended by a nurse. Chief Justice Morrison, after attempting to get on with the trial, said he would traverse it to the Fall sitting of the court because he was not going to have the court "turned into a theatre." The trial proceeded on October 6, 1932, and the accused was found guilty by a jury. She has since been on bail pending the result of the appeal made known yesterday.

It was revealed at the hearing of the appeal yesterday for the first time that the package containing a quantity of opium addressed to Betty Wilson had been followed by police officers of the R.C.M.P. from Vancouver and the delivery of the parcel was so nicely timed that the officers were at the Panama Hotel within five minutes of the time the parcel was transferred from the postman to Bertha Brooks.

Additional Employment at Present Gives Assistance to All

"BUY HUMAN INTEREST BONDS!"

Additional employment made at this time of year helps everybody. The employer secures the quick execution of the work by having it attended to at once. The employee, man or woman, finds in the extra work the much-needed cash.

"The public at large benefits by the increase in the spending power of the money thus put into circulation," said an employee of the Employment Service of Canada, Victoria branch. "While permanent and suitable employment is of course sought for all, a job of a few hours or a day is of great assistance and much appreciated."

PLAN CAMPAIGN OF ADVERTISING

Kellogg Company of Canada Promoting Move to Keep Plants Operating During 1933

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 10.—Having proved that volume in business could be obtained throughout 1932, the Kellogg Company of Canada, Limited, London, has completed plans to make 1933 another satisfactory year, according to W. K. Kellogg, founder and president of the cereal manufacturing firm.

"Early in 1932," said Mr. Kellogg, "we determined upon an aggressive merchandising and advertising effort on a nation-wide scale to keep our plants in full operation. To this end we undertook the largest advertising campaign in the company's history. As a result our plants have operated full time throughout most of the year, with employment at the highest peak ever recorded.

HOPE TO INCREASE SALES

"We are now entering 1933 with all our plans made to carry on with our merchandising and advertising activities upon the same scope and basis. Again we hope to give the retailer every possible assistance in increasing his sales of Kellogg products. Again we hope to keep all of our people employed.

"We have proved that, in our line of business, the aggressive use of newspaper advertising is a most effective means of producing results—even in times like these.

"So for 1933, our plans are to continue with newspapers as the backbone of our promotional efforts. Newspapers not only give the intensive, aggressive coverage we need, but their flexibility and splendid co-operation with our men in the field, enable us to take full advantage of every local possibility. This is a factor of great importance."

SIX-HOUR SHIFT

The year just ended marked the second anniversary of the adoption by the Kellogg Company, of Battle Creek, of the six-hour-day working shift. The change from three shifts of eight hours each to four shifts of six hours, was made on December 1, 1930. More than 400 permanent new jobs were created. Hourly wage rates were increased to give employees the same purchasing power as in 1928.

At the present time the Kellogg six-hour system is being closely studied as an instance of what the shorter working day in industry can be expected to contribute toward the solution of the current unemployment problem.

Find More Bodies In Burned Liner

CHERBOURG, France, Jan. 10 (AP).—Three more bodies were discovered yesterday in the hull of the burned passenger liner Atlantique, bringing the number found dead aboard to ten.

Experts believe the ship should be broken up, but action has been delayed pending receipt of advice from the English insurers of the Atlantique, which burned in the English Channel last Wednesday with the loss of eighteen members of the crew.

MRS. J. G. HILTON CALLED BY DEATH

Early Victoria Resident Passes in Hospital—Had Lived Here for Sixty Years

Another link with pioneer days of Victoria and Vancouver Island was severed on Monday, when Mrs. Emily Hilton, wife of Joseph G. Hilton, 1040 Pembroke Street, was summoned by death at St. Joseph's Hospital, after a residence in Victoria of sixty years.

Born in Cornwall, England, Mrs. Hilton came to this city with her parents in 1872. The family lived for many years on Old Pioneer Street. Joseph Rowe, her father, was a prospector in Omineca for many years.

Mrs. Hilton is survived by her husband, at the family residence; two sons, Albert S. and Joseph C.; one sister, Mrs. M. A. Smith; and two grandchildren, all residing in Victoria.

The funeral will be held today at 3:15 o'clock, from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ASKING RELIEF AT HIGH COURT

Nearly a Score of Convicted Persons to Appear Before Tribunal Here Monday

Monday next, commencing at 11 o'clock, the British Columbia Court of Appeal, in session here, will start hearing the plaints of nearly a score of persons convicted of offences and sentenced in the lower courts, who will not be represented by counsel.

Most of the appellants will be brought over from the Mainland by special police escort, and will remain in Victoria until their cases have been disposed of. The criminal list before the Appeal Court numbered exactly twenty appeals, but a number of these are being presented by counsel and have the right of way over all cases on the docket at present. The first was disposed of yesterday afternoon, that of Bertha Brooks appealing against a sentence of three years for being in possession of drugs. Others will be commenced today, having been set down on the peremptory list.

Those appearing in person will appear before the tribunal, and will be given an opportunity to state their case and their reasons for asking the Appeal Court to upset the finding of the "courts below." A. M. Johnson, K.C., will appear as counsel for the Crown in those appeals.

CELLAR HABITAT HIS OWN CHOICE

Young Hermit Stayed With Coal in Order to Carry On More Experiments

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 10 (AP).—Twenty-two-year-old Arthur Doebrich disclosed in police court Saturday that for three years he had refused to emerge from the coal cellar in his family's home because he wanted to conduct radio experiments—and because he couldn't get along with his father.

Adolph Doebrich, sixty-year-old father, declared he had tried to pry his son out of his dingy retreat time and again.

These statements prompted Police Judge A. L. Leubbers to dismiss a charge of "abuse of family" against the elder Doebrich. That charge had been preferred after police acted on neighborhood gossip about the "young hermit." Two officers led the young man off to a hospital.

SHABBY BUT SCIENTIFIC

Hospital doctors noted Arthur's long, matted and greying hair, his threadbare overcoat and burst shoes, and declared the case one of exposure. But today, appearing in police court, the young man appeared normal and his story rational.

"My clothes were too shabby to stay out of doors," said Arthur, "and I wanted to experiment with radio. I have made radio sets. I built a small automobile, and experimented on television and other things. My father didn't keep me a prisoner in the cellar. I wanted to keep away from my father. We didn't agree."

MAGNESITE DEPOSIT FOUND ON SURVEY

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—Announcement is made by the geological survey of the Department of Mines of the discovery near Cranbrook, B.C., of a large and conveniently situated deposit of crystalline rock magnesite. Crystalline magnesite conservatively estimated at thirty feet in thickness, occurs within a formation 150 feet or more wide that has been traced for over four miles. Analysis of samples taken at selected localities compare favorably with those of the more important commercial deposits of magnesite the world over.

WELL-KNOWN PIONEER OF VANCOUVER DEAD

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 — Rod Campbell, Sr., one of Vancouver's oldest and best-known pioneers, died over the week-end. A native of Glengary, Ontario, where he was born ninety-one years ago, he had been a resident of Vancouver for more than forty-four years.

Mr. Campbell, and the wife who survives him, had a host of friends in Vancouver. December 7 last was the sixty-seventh anniversary of their wedding, but it was quietly celebrated, for Mr. Campbell was then in failing health.

Laughed at Wife—but Soon Realized She Was Right

Man Credits Good Health to Wife's Faith in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 10 (Special).

No woman likes to be laughed at. Perhaps Mrs. Woodhouse took no exception to her husband's smiles when she knew how much cleverer she was than he thought, in telling of the incident. Henry B. Woodhouse says—"I have suffered terribly with Kidney and Bladder trouble. During the past three years it has been almost a monthly affair. I was frightened to have an operation as my doctor advised.

"My wife suffered from Rheumatism seven years ago and only weighed 95 lbs. I laughed when, on a friend's advice, she took Dodd's Kidney Pills, but she is now a new woman and weighs 143 lbs.

I scoffed at the idea of all patent medicines, but am glad to say my wife persisted and to please her I took Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I thank God for it. I am, after four months, a well man."

Sick Kidneys cause many diseases. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys making them strong and healthy to do their work of straining all impurities out of the blood.

H. B. WOODHOUSE

Whose 3 years of suffering were soon ended when he followed his wife's suggestion and tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Woodhouse says his wife's persistency was responsible for his relief, and an operation thought essential was avoided.

PLIGHT OF PRAIRIE FARMERS

In relation to any discussion on what should be done to relieve the plight of the prairie grain growers, due attention must be paid to what has been vouchsafed in the years gone by for their assistance. A recapitulation of the aid given them is no amelioration of their present difficulties, but it does indicate that primary production has always been a primary consideration to lawgivers, and that efforts have been made from time to time to assist such industry in a manner which indicates that it is the most favored of all industries in the Dominion.

The tariff has been changed again and again in the interest of the farmers. Railway extensions to tap productive areas have been carried out far in advance of economic requirements. The lowest transportation rates that prevail on this continent have been put into force in order to assist the farmer in getting his product to the markets. Bonuses amounting to many millions of dollars have been given to the agricultural industry. Farmers have been provided with banking facilities on a most generous scale. Seed grain has been given to agriculturists. The Hudson Bay Railway was built, with port and shipping facilities added at a total cost of $60,000,000 for the benefit of the prairie grain producers. Shipping facilities on the Great Lakes, on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards and on the St. Lawrence have been put into effect for their particular benefit.

The question that now arises is what further help can be given. The prairie farmers have had their good years intermingled with bad times. In the good years, like so many other improvident persons and business concerns, it is to be feared that reserve funds were not built up in preparation for lean times. There is world-wide example of such improvidence, and therefore no special blame can attach to the farmers. It is a difficult matter now to decide what new machinery can be put into motion to ameliorate the distress that prevails among the agricultural population of the Dominion. Such machinery can hardly be established without placing a new burden on other industries, and these are in no condition to face such a handicap. Cheaper transportation would reduce railway returns which have now reached a point causing the country the gravest concern.

The fact is that the country has done an immense lot for the prairie farmer. It is ready to do more, provided it can be shown that other interests, and particularly the interests of the taxpayers as a whole, will not suffer. What that something more is no one seems able to indicate. It would be folly to rescue one class from a common adversity when in the work other classes must suffer. Indeed, it seems that the solution of the farmers' difficulties does not lie in national, but in international action. Doubtless the plight of grain growers will be one of the subjects occupying considerable attention at any international conference on monetary matters to be held in the near future.

WAR DEBT SITUATION

A wide gulf of difference lies between the United States and Europe on the question of war debts. Briefly, the United States maintains that the debts can be paid, and in gold. The opposite attitude is taken by the debtor nations. It is true that certain nations are unable to pay, and some of these have defaulted in the latest settlement. On the other hand, there are nations which can pay, at least in part, but the difficulty arises because of the unwillingness of the creditor nation to accept payment in the kind of wealth which it is in the power of the debtor nation to produce.

Britain can pay in goods or services. That method would mean the re-establishment of idle factories and workshops. The plan does not suit the United States. It would mean, too much competition with her own manufactures. Britain is, in fact, as one commentator says, "placed in exactly the same position as America would have found herself if, in the latter years of the war, we had insisted on borrowing from the United States British sterling and not food or munitions. The United States would have been as powerless to find us that money as we are powerless to repay in American currency."

The same commentator, Mr. Charles A. McCurdy, says that if Britain is to pay in dollars she has got to find possessors of dollars who will exchange those dollars for British goods and services, "and that is an impossible task in a world which is suffering from a surplus of almost every conceivable kind of commodity." Up to the present time such payment of debts as have been made by the Allied Powers have been made out of funds received from Germany, that is all except the last installment. As a matter of fact France received from Germany three and a half times as much as she has paid to Great Britain and the United States. Great Britain has paid out $240,000,000 in excess of receipts from her debtors, but France has received $1,000,000,000 in excess of payments. Between 1924 and 1931 Germany paid 11,000,000,000 marks on reparations. In the same period she borrowed 18,000,000,000 marks, of which 9,000,000,000 was from the United States, while 8,000,000,000 marks were paid to the United States on war debts account. In effect, what has happened is that the United States has furnished to the reparation and debtor countries of Europe much more than adequate to cover the payments to the United States.

The United States has now ceased to furnish such funds to Europe. At this moment reparation payments have ended for the time being. That is the reason that the war debt situation has reached an impasse. The United States is seemingly determined that there will be no cancellation. There is evidence, however, that the force of circumstances will bring about a revision, but such revision cannot be discussed until the change over in the regime in the United States. It is quite obvious that payments in gold will have to cease. Mr. Neville Chamberlain says that what happened in connection with Britain's last installment cannot be repeated. The force of world opinion is bearing upon the United States to change her adamantine attitude which is inflicting more hardship on her own country than on those countries which are her creditors. Probably the decision of France not to pay the December installment will bring matters to a head.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Britain has had a Royal Commission on Unemployment Insurance. One conclusion reached is that the administration of public assistance is a scientific and judicial business which cannot be properly discussed in the heated atmosphere of a large committee formed mainly on a political basis with an election in prospect. "So long," says Sir Allan Powell, "as these questions are kept within the sphere of party politics, and it is believed that votes can be won or lost by the use of them either at general or local elections, no real or final settlement is possible."

It is well that this should be borne in mind at the forthcoming conference of the Provincial Premiers and the Dominion Government on the subject of state unemployment insurance. What has happened in Britain should be a warning to Canada. Since 1920 the rates of benefit in the Old Country have been increased, the classes of dependents extended and conditions of benefit relaxed regardless of their effect upon the solvency of the fund. In other words, each successive Government, according to the Commission's report, "has made changes in the scheme with a desire to attract or do as little as possible to repel electoral support."

The Royal Commission recommends a statutory commission to advise the Minister of Labor in the matter of state unemployment insurance. It also recommends a new statutory committee of the local authorities for all able-bodied applicants. On the other hand, Mr. Geoffrey Drage, who is the Chairman of the Denison House Committee on Public Assistance, suggests that the National Health Insurance plan is so closely interlocked with National Unemployment Insurance that they cannot be kept apart. He suggests a fresh start should be made on the subject of public assistance as a whole. He quotes Sir Arthur Newsholme who has repeatedly stated that the National Health Insurance scheme is "not actuarially, financially, or medically sound, and has involved expenditures in administration entirely incommensurate with the benefits received." That challenge has gone unanswered. In Germany, State Unemployment Insurance, after a long trial, has been declared to be actuarially and financially unsound. In the light of all experience elsewhere, where the state intervenes, all such insurance becomes a burden on the taxpeyers in excess of what is originally proposed. It becomes a burden especially on industry. It is for the forthcoming conference at Canada to decide if National Unemployment Insurance can be devised in a way whereby the taxpayers will know exactly where they will stand, not only in the immediate future but throughout the years. It will also have to be decided if industry can stand any new strain.

The easiest thing in the world is to be wise after the event. That is the exhibition that is being given at present by platform speakers and busybodies everywhere who blame everything that has happened on their elected representatives, but rarely, if ever, think of blaming themselves. Busybodies in this respect lack every element of sportsmanship. There is an illustration of this in the criticism now being vented on the war debt settlement which Britain made with the United States. Every tyro in politics is condemning that settlement, and yet, it was not challenged by a single speech during the Budget Debate at Westminster which made provision for the payment of the first installment. Even Mr. Lloyd George never sounded a note of criticism.

THE ISLE OF PORTLAND

The star-filled seas are smooth tonight
From France to England strown;
Black towers above the Portland light
The felon-quarried stone.

On youder island, not to rise,
Never to stir forth free,
Far from his folk a dead lad lies
That once was friends with me.

Lie you easy, dream you light,
And sleep you fast for aye;
And luckier may you find the night
Than ever you found the day.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

How gloriously her gallant course she goes;
Her white wings flying—never from her foes;
She walks the waters like a thing of life,
And seems to dare the elements to strife.
—Byron.

One of the few compensations for length of days—perhaps we should say for reasonable length of days—is a vivid recollection of old songs. One of the best of the sold songs was "Larboard Watch, Ahoy!" That old song is seldom sung now, and when it is sung it is generally murdered. We have heard trained vocal technologists, commonly called great artists, try to sing it as it should be sung, and they always made a mess of it. One of the most entrancing of our many memories was to hear "Larboard Watch" sung on a ship by a company of sailors, probably on the port watch. A baritone with a voice like a foghorn, but perfectly in tune, roared out "Larboard Watch, Ahoy!" Then a very sweet tenor voice was heard, giving an impression as from a distance, singing in response, "Larboard Watch, Ahoy!"

Rubbish! someone may say. What have silly and sentimental old songs to do with the circumstances of the present day? Wait a minute and we shall try to tell you the connection between the songs of other days and the conditions of the present day. There is no such watch nowadays as the Larboard Watch. The nautical term Larboard was abolished years and years ago by the order of the British Admiralty. We see by the papers that the great mercantile marine in which the old song once was sung so lustily is in danger of becoming as obsolete as the old song itself.

You will have seen by the papers that new ships of the German, the French and the Italian mercantile marine are speeding across the Atlantic Ocean and establishing new records for speed almost every week, while the frame of a vessel of the once-famous Cunard Line, designed for the purpose of meeting the competition of the foreign companies, is lying uncompleted and practically rusting on the stocks on the banks of the Clyde.

You also will remember reading a famous slogan about the freedom of the seas. This famous or notorious slogan was promulgated by the late President Wilson during the war to serve the purpose of the great nation which at the time it was issued was doing a tremendous and very profitable business in selling provisions and munitions to all the nations engaged in the war. In that business there was no respect of nations. The German mark was just as welcome as the British pound or the French franc.

In its original conception the term freedom of the seas had a very restricted significance. The British nation always has upheld the principle of freedom of the seas in the wide conception of the term. And, as far as the British Empire is concerned, the seas are absolutely free. But none of the great nations in the world at the present day is acting upon the principle that the seas are free. In none of the other great nations of the world is trading free, and the principle of protection has been applied to shipping as well as to marketing. The nations which are actively competing against Great Britain in doing business upon the great waters are not only not conducting their business upon a free trade basis, but they are subsidizing their ships for the purpose of accomplishing designs or ambitions which could not be accomplished upon equal terms.

A few days ago an eminent authority of the United States publicly declared that any nation which is ambitious to become dominant in trade must be supreme upon the seas. The situation today, then, is that the United States, France, Italy and Germany are contributing enormous sums annually from their public treasuries for the purpose of establishing and maintaining mercantile marines which will be supreme upon the trading lanes of the world. That at least is the charge which has been laid by a British shipping authority, to which an American shipping authority replies that his country is merely subsidizing ships to the paltry amount of twenty-two millions of dollars a year—which of course does not include government loans and numerous other incidentals.

The truth is self-evident that individuals or even companies cannot compete in the transportation business or any other business against nations. The public purse is wider and deeper than the individual purse. Realizing this truth, we observe that an eminent journalist in Great Britain who has long been an ardent advocate of free trade has become alarmed about the imminent consequences of freedom of water transportation which is restricted to one nation.

"Their ships have lost money," writes Mr. Gardiner, "and will lose money, but they think the money is well lost if it gives them the command of world transport. It is this challenge of state-subsidized shipping which British shipping is up against. It is that challenge which it has to meet and overcome if our mercantile sea power is not to become a thing of the past.

"This is the issue of the Cunarder. It is not a mere question of winning back the blue riband of the Atlantic. If it were only that the solution would be obvious. We ought to build. It would be a saving to build. For it is estimated that in the year that the Cunarder has been lying derelict we have paid £750,000 in unemployment relief to men who might have been employed in completing her.

"But behind the question of the Cunarder is the vast question of state subsidies for shipping generally. We are in the presence of a massed attack on British shipping conducted not on commercial lines, but on the plane of high politics. In this struggle our rivals are applying all the resources of the state to achieve their purpose.

"It is difficult to see how against such an attack, if it is driven home at the sacrifice of all business considerations, British shipping can hold its own on the basis of private enterprise.

"The choice seems to be between seeing an industry which is vital to our existence reduced to bankruptcy or taking up the challenge of our rivals and meeting state-subsidized competition with a state-subsidized defence. This is the issue that envelops the question of the Cunarder, and it should be faced by the government at once in all its implications."

THE TECHNOCRATIC HARE

(Press Dispatch (London).—Everyone in England is talking about Nipper Simms, the dog who races and beats the hare. He is the despair of the man in the control box, as Nipper is not interested in catching the hare; he shows it how to run. Before the first turn is reached he is generally leading the hare by ten lengths.)

Great Waterloo and Nethrby and
Fullerton take heed,
Huv' ye heard how Nipper gets out to earn his daily feed?
He's got all the experts baffled, he's the switchman's dire despair,
As he scampers up the backbone of the Technocratic Hare.

When Simms dashes from the slipgate, he licks the roaring gale,
And in less than half a second
"Puss" is miles behind his tail.
The bookies and the scientists "to cheer can scarce forbear"
To see a little Nipper fool the Technocratic Hare.

Puss is nurtured in the purple, she's of the real "March" strain;
Two hundred experts bred her through a Yankee double brain,
Up-to-date and very modern, more than her legs are bare,
Simms Nipper's—kills the exposure of the Technocratic Hare.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

THE DOUBLE-CROSS

When one has double-crossed someone in business or in some similar field, one's actions are usually considered quite reprehensible. However, if you have successfully double-crossed one of your opponents at the bridge table, you have sufficient reason to feel quite proud, for, instead of being punished, you probably will be rewarded if by nothing else than a large figure on the score sheet. Double-crossing at the bridge table is a simple matter. A synonym for the word "double-cross" is "outguess." Just keep one jump ahead of the next fellow.

An example of "the big double-cross number" is seen on the hand below, where a leading expert outguessed another leading expert in a recent duplicate game.

The Bidding:

(Figure after bid in table refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♠	Pass
4◇(1)	Pass	4♡	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

1. This bid was the key to the whole situation. South knew West, who would be the opening leader against any final spade declaration, to be an astute player. South decided that, with any slight additional encouragement from his partner, he would play the hand at a slam, figuring it to be, at the worst, dependent on one of two finesses. However, South realized that it would make the fulfilment of his contract much simpler if his ace-queen of diamonds was led up to. Knowing West to be up on all the latest tricks and wiles of the good player, South was sure that he knew that one of the more popular schemes being used was to bid a worthless suit with the hope of stopping an opening lead in that suit, and, having prevented this lead, now discard the losers on some side suit.

Knowing West would be on the lookout for a deceptive bid of this sort, South very brilliantly decided to do the unusual and bid the suit he actually wanted led. Therefore, the four diamond bid. Of course, when North responded with four hearts, it was not even close to South that he would bid for the slam, which he proceeded to do on the next round.

West went into a long huddle before making his opening lead. "Why," he thought to himself, "is South bidding diamonds at this stage of the game when he and his partner have already decided upon spades as their best suit? I think I understand. He is a little bit worried that we may be able to take too many thicks to enable him to make his contract of six; therefore, there is a very good chance that my partner may have either the queen or the ace of diamonds"—and forthwith a low diamond was opened. Even a hurried glance at the hands in question will show that this was the only way that South could fulfil his slam contract. Both finesses were wrong and the slam bid would have been defeated one trick had west not tried to be brilliant and outguess South, who was just a little too far ahead of him.

Counsel Charges Comptroller-General Failed in His Statutory Duty

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10 (CP.—Failure in statutory duty was charged against the Comptroller-General of Manitoba and members of the University of Manitoba board of governors yesterday by R. F. McWilliams, K.C., counsel for a board of inquiry investigating $1,000,000 loss in university endowments.

Robert Drummond, Comptroller-General since 1921, was accused by counsel of a "futile and inexcusable act" through his failure to obtain an annual audit of university investments for seven years, while J. R. Major, who was required actually to make the audit, has, Mr. McWilliams, "clearly demonstrated his own unfitness for a place on the auditing staff of the province."

BOARD RESPONSIBLE

The board of governors was blamed by counsel for "failing to make arrangements regarding their investments and must be held responsible for the result." He contended no consistent action ever appeared to have been taken between the land board and the board of governors regarding the purchase and disposal of bonds. There were, he said, instances of both boards buying bonds.

Legality of continuance of John A. Machray as both bursar and chairman of the board of governors was questioned by Mr. McWilliams, who said: "It seems to me the board was not justified either in law or sound practice to permit Machray to continue in office as bursar and the board of governors for that period must be held responsible for everything resulting from their negligence."

BREACH OF STATUTES

Drummond admitted there had been no audit for seven years nor had there been a report to the board of governors, which counsel described as a "clear breach of the university statutes, relating to the comptroller-general's duty."

The Comptroller-General was not the only one who, he would suggest, should be held financially responsible, counsel said, but adjournment of the hearing interrupted any further mention of names.

TO "AMY"

Oh, Amy dear—who knows no fear,
You've won the world's applause,
You sought it not, but risked your life
In aviation's cause.
You've braved the perils of the deep
'Cross desert lands you've flown
God-given courage helped you face—
Night's terrors all alone.

Your unassuming, gentle ways,
When once more you succeed,
Endear you to the hearts of all,
And yet, we fain would plead—
You tempt not Providence too far
But on your laurels rest,
For though we honor others, too;
'Tis "Amy" we love best.

WAR DEBTS

Sir,—Some one anonymously sent me the Friday, December 29, issue of your good paper, in which were marked two editorials and a letter from one of your readers with regard to making a case against payment of the war debts to America.

One editorial made the point of past repudiation of debts by certain of the states. Another detailed at some length the experience of an individual who had money owing him for premises rented to the Navy and the letter says that we failed to uphold our end in guaranteeing the territorial integrity of Belgium. Of course, this whole matter naturally contains the seed of countless controversy because pocketbooks are affected on both sides. Perhaps you would be interested in the attitude of a typical American.

In the first place, anyone with a spark of British heritage could not fail to resent, and become jolly well fed up with being told what he should do by someone to whom he has loaned money. Also, the same heritage is responsible for an inability to see wherein past failure to honor obligations is excuse for present failure to do so. These past matters are historic, and if America had not loaned these sums to the Allies during the war, then the point could not have been made that past debts were not met in this country.

The plain facts are that these obligations were all considered inviolate at the time they were contracted. The time to advance any such considerations as those mentioned was when funds were being applied for; however, that would not have been practical because they wanted the money. The attitude of the American taxpayer is intensely practical. We loaned the money in good faith; either the borrowers must pay it or we must pay it; we are unwilling to pay it. That is the attitude in a nutshell, without reference to territory or colonies gained, and without mention of reparations and all of the other complicating factors. Some of the arguments advanced take on the complexion of those of the old schoolastics, such as "How many spirits can dance on the point of a needle?" The prick of the needle is that somebody must pay, and we, as the lenders, having borrowed from certain of our citizens through the Liberty Loan drives, are unwilling to add to own own burdens by paying someone else's debt.

EMPIRE BROADCAST

Sir,—I am sure H. Grainger's letter, printed in The Colonist of January 7, must voice the sentiments of very many citizens of the British Empire.

I had anticipated The Colonist of December 28 with more than usual interest, expecting to read His Majesty's speech. To my dismay, I could find absolutely no reference to this event of such great interest, broadcast purposely to reach the entire Empire.

Is it too late to ask you to have His Majesty's speech printed, so that all loyal subjects may have the opportunity of reading it?

TWENTY CENTS PER DAY

Sir,—The relief paid to single men is $2.80 per week. In the case of a single man who owns his dwelling place that relief allowance is cut to $1.40 per week. That is the amount on which he has to keep body and soul together, pay for fuel, light, etc.

It is provided by the special relief commission, board of administration for single men, that single destitute men who are in a position to provide their own lodging shall be granted relief to the extent of twenty cents per day per man for food, and in special cases, after investigation and recommendation from the Government agent or investigator, the allowance may be increased up to forty cents per day per man.

In the cases of those unfortunate single men, who are burdened with homes which they own, the allowance, as I have said, is twenty cents per day. The Corporation of Victoria charges twenty-five cents per diem for the keep of a dog in the pound. Evidently the life of a dog is of more monetary value than that of a man.

DOGS AND RAT POISON

Sir,—The following appeared in your issue of January 7, 1883:

"The number of dogs which have been poisoned in the city in the last few weeks is almost amazing, and it is time the authorities did something about it."

Almost the same words were used a few days ago by a well-known veterinary surgeon, when I took my dog to him to be put out of its misery after ten days of suffering from rat poisoning. Cannot something be done to restrict the indiscriminate and careless use of this dreadful form of torture? A piece of bread, spread with sweet tasting corrosive poison might easily be picked up and eaten by a hungry child, and then, too late, measures might be taken.

If rat poison must be used, surely it could be restricted to certain seasons of the year, and due notice given, so that dog-lovers could guard their friends from danger. In any case the spring trap always seems to me the most effective and merciful way of getting rid of rats.

CORRECTION AND APOLOGY

Sir,—Last March you printed a letter signed by me dealing with punishment aboard naval vessels. I was much distressed and surprised at being stigmatized as a brutal type of a naval officer.

I have only just discovered that many of your readers read my letter literally, not realizing it would be an impossibility to force a hose nozzle down a man's throat and turn on the water. It would indeed be brutal and I have medical authority for saying the man would burst. The hose was directed at the man and the salt water turned on. In other words, "a shower bath." I very much regret my misleading your readers, and can only excuse myself under that old tag of poetic licence.

OXFORD GROUP MOVEMENT

Sir,—According to the evidence given by Rev. G. F. Cox in his recent article, "Buchmanism or Oxford Group Movement," this form of Christianity fails to obtain the sanction of the church or evangelical religion, and in his objections, summarized in seven points, we are given the reasons, the first of which being: It is not true to Bible doctrine.

For any such movement to originate and exist, at all it cannot help being at variance with Bible doctrine, as such is interpreted by the church, for did it not differ in some day or other there would be nothing new, no movement to carry out to a waiting and truth-hungry world.

We see the same thing happen in the form of religion called Christian Science. Though founded on the same Scripture, it claimed a few points of difference from orthodox belief and won its place among a multitude of creeds. The fact that the O. G. Movement is not true to Bible doctrine is, however, no reason for condemnation in the eyes of many, and fortunately so.

There seems to be an attempt by the reverend writer to bind all by creed and theology, and it is only natural to find this attitude among the clergy. It does not matter whether we deal with theology or theosophy, the one fact remains that there is no religion higher than truth; in this one finally all creeds must merge as the ocean draws the rivers. True, right belief we all should strive for, yet it is not belief in this or that creed, or in any one passage of Scripture, that "saves," but rather a living the life as suggested and pointed out for us in all Holy Scripture of which the Bible is the youngest.

The path to salvation was laid down and clearly defined for all to walk in, for any people and for any time aeons before the event called the birth of Christ. His coming only emphasized it; it never altered that law.

True religion is not linked to the sequence of historical events in the life of any one nation, for the test of truth is its universality, transcending all limits of time or place.

The movement in question may supply just the elements needed for spiritual growth to many who otherwise failed to find the necessary inducement in the church proper.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of January 11, 1883)

A foreign dispatch states that the Princess Victoria of Hesse and Darmstadt, daughter of the late Princess Alice and granddaughter of the Queen, is about to be betrothed to the Grand Duke Frederick William of Baden, grandson of Emperor William of Germany.

The infant ruler of Thibet is not permitted to reach adolescence, the native priest putting him out of the way, so that the sovereignty may always be invested in a mere infant.

Maplehurst has been leased from March 31 by Rear Admiral Loons. He will arrive here with his family shortly, and he and his family are expected to stay throughout the entire Summer.

In consequence of the Johnson Street fire interrupting the entertainment staged for the purpose of raising funds for a new harmonium, the concert will be given again next Wednesday night.

Victorian Order Is Benefactor to the Entire Community

Mrs. William Pemberton Elected President of V.O.N. at Annual Meeting Yesterday—Nurses During Year Attended 1,636 Cases

MRS. William Pemberton will preside over the destinies of the Victorian Order of Nurses (Victoria branch) for the ensuing year, her selection for the office being unanimously endorsed by the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the headquarters, 420 Cook Street. Other members of the executive were chosen as follows: First vice-president, Mrs. Glen Holland; second vice-president, Mrs. O. R. Parker; secretary, Mrs. Norman Yarrow; treasurer, Mrs. F. V. Longstaff.

The reports of the retiring president, Mrs. M. S. Durand, and of the secretary, treasurer and head nurse, Miss E. Thornley, all testified to a year of untiring activity on behalf of the community, on a remarkably small income, the proportions of which were the subject of special comment by Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, in a brief address which he made during the afternoon.

INCREASED VISITS

"I notice with interest your figures show an increase in the number of visits by the nurses during the year, but there was no corresponding increase in the amount of money collected," Dr. Felton commented, although he brought the cheering announcement that there would probably be an extra $1,000 from the city this year. This should not be put down as an admission of the extra work devolving on the society owing to the depression so much as to being a direct mark of appreciation of the splendid work the order was doing in Victoria.

Reference was made to the increase in the prenatal work of the order during the year. There was no need for a prenatal clinic in the city so long as the Victorian Order continued to shoulder the responsibility so effectively as at present.

ONE MATERNAL DEATH

Victoria had made an astonishing record by having only one maternal death during the year, and this, Dr. Felton noted, was not one of the V.O.N. cases. This figure reflected great credit on the maternal and baby work of the V.O.N. British Columbia had the lowest infant mortality statistics for the entire Dominion, and Victoria the lowest for British Columbia.

Thanks to the V.O.N., Victoria had the T.B. situation better in hand than ever before. Hitherto it had been difficult to get the doctors to report T.B. cases, but with the advantage of the T.B. nurse working in connection with the chest clinic, follow-up work had become possible, and many cases which might otherwise have been missed, were contacted. In this connection Dr. Felton made reference to the tact shown by the V.O.N. T.B. nurse, Miss Denbigh. There was now no increase in the T.B. death rate, a final evidence of the enormous value of the Victorian Order.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

In her annual address the retiring president, Mrs. Durand, noted that a total of 1,636 patients had been attended by the order during the year, representing 13,269 visits, an increase of 626 over the previous year; prenatal visits numbered 181, an increase of thirty. This showed an enormous amount of work, "which has taxed our five efficient nurses to the utmost."

"The great problems which the board must face are the ever-increasing number of free patients and the difficulty of raising funds, on account of the unemployment and the large number of relief appeals," she continued. "However, we look back over the year with much gratitude." Among the year's visitors were Miss Smellie, chief superintendent, and Miss McQuaig, Western supervisor. Two members who would be much missed were Mrs. Charles W. Rhodes and Mrs. John Harper. Miss Smith and Miss Burtwhistle had joined the nursing staff, taking the places of Miss Boyce and Miss Olson, who had gone to the University of British Columbia for postgraduate work.

The formation of a junior auxiliary, under the presidency of Miss Kathleen Wilson, was an important incident of the year.

OTHER REPORTS

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Longstaff, showed receipts totaling $9,635.85 for the year, including insurance, $642; provincial grants, $500; city grant, $1,800; Oak Bay, $300; donations, $4,222; subscriptions, $264; tag day, $477; Kiwanis Club, $1,500. Expenditures were $573.61 in excess of receipts.

Special thanks were expressed to the head nurse, Miss Thornley, and Miss Stead and the nursing staff for their unfailing courtesy.

"Our work, though strenuous, has been pleasant and agreeable, and in consequence we have been able to accomplish so much more," noted Miss Thornley in her report, paying a tribute to the staff and various individuals and organizations which had given great help. The past year had been a trying one, but the thoughtful sympathy of numerous friends had assisted in the carrying on of this important public health work.

FIGURES HEAVY

Miss Thornley's figures bore evidence of a heavy year, with a total of 1,636 cases representing 13,269 visits. The cases were made up as follows: 894 medical, 172 prenatal, forty-six surgical, 179 prenatals, sixteen interrupted pregnancies, fifty-four infants of obstetrical; seventy-nine postnatal, seventy-nine infants of postnatal. WINS SEAT BY ACCLAMATION

Walter P. Jeune Elected for One-Year Term on Saanich School Board

Former School Trustee Walter Philip Jeune, who filed nomination papers for the one-year term on the Saanich board this year, received the post by acclamation yesterday when Ralph Alcock, the only other nominee for this position, withdrew from the contest.

Mr. Jeune held a position on the board in former years and is well known in the municipality for his active interest in school affairs. Earlier in the present election campaign he stated he would not be a candidate for any municipal post, but after being approached by many ratepayers, he finally consented to let his name go forward.

Two other seats are to be filled on the board this year, being those vacated by Trustees William Tomes and W. S. Thorpe, both of whom are seeking re-election. They are opposed by W. W. Duncan and F. G. Aldous, whose namination papers have been filed. The election will be held next Saturday.

THIEVES PREYING ON AUTOMOBILES

Rear-Window Jobs on Downtown Stores Are Also Reported to City Police

Despite the arrest of five men last week-end, police yesterday were still searching for a gang of thieves who are raiding automobiles and doing a brisk rear-window business in the downtown area.

Yesterday two more reports of automobiles being rifled were received. Dr. J. W. Lennox reported a medical instrument valued at $35 stolen from his car, while Mrs. David Spencer reported having a vanity set stolen from her machine.

The Clark Printing Company informed police that their premises, 717 Pandora Avenue, were entered early yesterday morning. Complete entry was not gained, owing to a heavily-bolted door. A window was forced open at the rear of the premises, but once the thieves dropped down into the hallway, they found further entry barred by the heavy door.

During the past few days two other stores reported thefts. In one case, $35 in cash was taken.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

The best cough remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and saves two-thirds of the money a family usually spends on cough medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

TO MAKE SURVEY OF TAX ARREARS

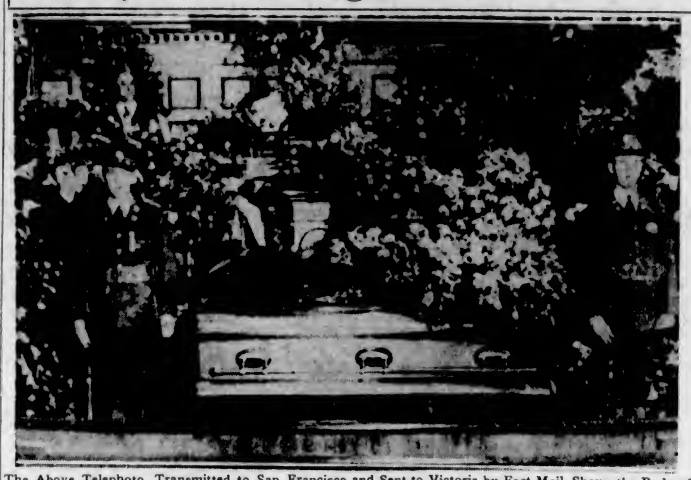

Mayor Leeming Will Ascertain What Class of Property-Holder Is Hardest Hit

A complete survey of city tax arrears will be undertaken to ascertain what section of the community has been hit hardest by the increased civic obligations brought about by unemployment, Mayor David Leeming announced yesterday.

Since 1930, arrears have been mounting until they now stand at $200,000 for the past two years. Whether the bulk of this amount is represented by the small home owner or the large investor or by all classes generally, will be ascertained by a study of the treasury department's records.

Just what this survey presages is not fully known, but there are many who own their homes and are on relief and it is expected that some scheme may be evolved whereby the small home owner will not have to sacrifice his life's savings because of the economic depression.

MAKES PLEA FOR SPORTSMANSHIP

Frank Paulding Speaks Before Kiwanis Club Relative to Week of Games

As an introduction to the Sportsmanship Week which the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring, supported by the various athletic clubs in the city, Frank Pauling, of the Y.M.C.A., addressed the Kiwanians yesterday on the benefits of sportsmanship. On February 4 the sportsmanship week will open with events carried over the following six week-days. Events of outstanding importance will take place with the proceeds devoted to children of the city who are in need of clothing, etc.

Mr. Paulding pointed out that the Kiwanis Clubs, as an organization throughout America, were associating themselves with the fostering of good sportsmanship. This was well, he thought, as the code of manly sport worked well in business life.

NEED OF SPORT SPIRIT

Mr. Paulding alluded to the burden that humanity was called upon to bear at this time. It was suffering, he said, from a strain which seemed more than the human family could carry. He urged, therefore, as a means of lessening the strain, that all adopt some line of sport. Participation was far better in these games than that of merely watching the progress of them.

Sport, he said, had its compensations even in defeat. Endurance, self control, and co-operation along with many other character-building features were called into being in connection with the practice of sport.

S. J. D. Clack followed with an outline of the programme as far as now arranged. He said that there would be a religious service held on either the Sunday of February 5, or a week later in connection with the event.

J. C. Dowds, who is in charge of the arrangements, also spoke on the event, setting out that there was a duty cast upon them all to see the children were not handicapped for the future. He called upon the members of the Kiwanis Club to "play the game" and see that the sale of tickets was properly put over. He encouraged the idea that unemployed should be afforded the opportunity to attend these games and called upon the generosity of the citizens to pass on admission tickets to them.

GENERAL PROGRAMME

In a general way the programme outlined by Mr. Clack called for a soccer game under the Pacific Coast League on Saturday, February 4, at the Royal Athletic Park. On Monday there will be a badminton match between two of the leading teams of the Island. The finals will be played on the Friday night following.

On Tuesday evening, there will be a dinner, possibly in the Hudson's Bay Company's dining-room, at which all the sportsmen will be present. On Wednesday afternoon there will be a Rugby match between the Victoria College and the High School. In the evening of that day, basketball will be the great attraction.

On Thursday, there will be no field games, but opportunity will be afforded to witness carpet bowling and also indoor bowling. It is expected to have indoor track events on Saturday night at the Willows, when some Nanaimo athletes will be present and possibly some will come from Vancouver. Under the Y.M.C.A., exhibitions will also be given.

Funeral Today

The funeral service for Herbert Macklin will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

HAS ORDER FOR CLEAR LUMBER

J. O. Cameron Reports Indications of Better Business for Victoria Company

The Cameron Lumber Company has received an order from the C.N.R. for three car loads of clear lumber, to be delivered at the Transcona works of that company, to be used in the car shops there. This, says J. O. Cameron, is one of the indications that things are showing an improvement and that better conditions may be expected.

His company, feeling that there are also indications that in and about Victoria there will be an increasing demand for lumber during the coming season, has purchased a supply of logs which were made available and is having them sawn at the Moore-Whittington mills so as to be ready for the improved conditions when they come.

Mr. Cameron points with satisfaction to the record of Greater Victoria in the past year in home building, and ventures the opinion that no other city of its size on the continent could show a better record in building. He only excepts places which might have been the scene of some large single construction enterprise, such as the erection of some great public building.

Mr. Cameron says that his company has taken a chance on the turn in the tide of affairs and he hopes not to be disappointed.

EARL ROBINSON GAINS FREEDOM

Former Police Court Clerk of Vancouver Wins Appeal From Conviction

The conviction against Earl Everett Robinson, forty-six, former police court clerk of the city of Vancouver, was quashed by the Court of Appeal at the opening of the Victoria sitting here yesterday morning.

Mr. Robinson's appeal was from conviction and sentence of two and a half years in the penitentiary, given by Chief Justice Morrison after his second trial at Vancouver Assize Court last May. Robinson carried his appeal to the Appeal Court, which sat in Vancouver last October, judgment being reserved until yesterday.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

The former police court official was charged with the theft of $17,177 from the city of Vancouver between January 1, 1916, and May 1, 1931. At the first trial, presided over by Mr. Justice A. I. Fisher, the jury disagreed and a new trial was ordered. The accused official next came before the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and was convicted and sentenced.

Robinson has been on bail since his trial.

MAIN POINT OF ARGUMENT

The Crown, at the trial, contended that the accused had stolen money for the equivalent of cheques which he deposited with the city treasurer and did not enter the cheques in his own books at the police court. The main point of argument at the appeal in Vancouver was that there was nothing to show, in the record, that Robinson had to pay money to the city treasurer, and that there was nothing to show that the treasurer did not receive the money in question.

In allowing the appeal yesterday, Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald remarked, in giving the judgment of the court, that there was nothing to be gained by a new trial and the court considered the case had been tried enough already.

YOUNG MEN ARE GIVEN FREEDOM

Frank Shaw, Leslie Kennedy and George Smith, city youths, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a storeroom of the Victoria Sporting Goods Company in the Pemberton Building over the last week-end, were given suspended sentence when they appeared before Police Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court yesterday morning for sentence. The youths, however, will be required to report once a month to the police office here.

Clarence B. McConnell, proprietor of the Victoria Sporting Goods Company, who said he had known the families of the boys for a number of years, made a plea for leniency. The magistrate pointed out this was the first time the youths had been into any serious trouble and would exercise his right in giving suspended sentence. He pointed out, however, the seriousness of the crime and the penalty which might have accompanied their conviction.

APPRECIATE FINE PUBLIC SUPPORT

Aid From Citizens Enabled Salvation Army to Continue Efforts at Christmas Time

The officers of the Salvation Army wish to express their thanks to all who helped make their Christmas cheer campaign the success that it proved to be.

As in past seasons, the approach of the festive season made great demands upon the organization, only to find that, as usual, the Army was ready, and the many letters of gratitude that have been received from those to whom hampers were sent prove how much the work was appreciated.

To a late hour on Christmas Eve cases were being investigated and hampers were being sent out, and even on Christmas morning it was found that two or three homes had not been provided for, but these were speedily looked after.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

The financial and statistical summary has now been prepared for dispatch to the Army's audit department and was presented at a meeting of the relief board on Monday afternoon. This shows that while the income was reduced 10 per cent, a total of 260 standard hampers were sent out, in addition to special Christmas dinners being supplied to a number of single persons. In addition to the foregoing, 470 free meals were supplied during December to needy cases, 136 free beds were provided, and 236 parcels of clothing were given away, as well as a quantity of furniture and fuel.

A Christmas tree and entertainment was provided for 350 children of destitute families, these being specially invited from among the families to whom hampers were sent.

The members of the board are keenly appreciative of the response that was made to their appeal, both in gifts of cash and goods; this helped to make the Christmas season a time of joy and happiness.

"TIS A MAD WORLD" SAYS QUEBEC DOCTOR

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (CP).—A prediction that the whole world would be insane within a quarter of a century was made ten years ago by Dr. A. H. Desloges, general medical director on hospitals for the insane, industrial and reformatory schools, and chief of the division of social hygiene for the Province of Quebec.

Today Dr. Desloges is of the same opinion—only he believes the degeneration has proceeded more rapidly than he expected. He stated the world had already reached that point.

A Great Doctor says—

DR. PAUL GERBER, the famous medical authority of Vienna, Austria, states: "Fresh yeast gently stimulates the intestinal action . . . keeps intestines clean, active . . . has a tonic effect on the health."

Have you tried it? There's no better way to get back appetite—energy—strength. Start eating Fleischmann's Yeast and cleanse your system of poisons. It's so easy!

EAT THREE CAKES of Fleischmann's fresh Yeast every day, regularly—before meals, or between meals and at bedtime—just plain, or in water (a third of a glassful). It's very rich in vitamins B, G and D. At grocers, restaurants and soda fountains.

New Choral Society Is Organized in Victoria

Orpheus Choir Forms With 130 Applications, Intending to Sing Oratorios and Operatic Works—Practices Already Commenced

Another choral society, to be known as the Orpheus Society, was organized at a well-attended meeting held at the First United Church last night, under the chairmanship of Davis Morgan.

Organization proceeded without a hitch, business being conducted with such dispatch that shortly after 9 o'clock, W. C. Fyfe, who has been appointed official conductor of the group, had already begun testing some of the 130 voices of applicants for membership in the society. Subsequently practice was commenced on two of the Musical Festival pieces, Vaughan Williams' "Sweet Day," and Schubert's "Allelujah" chorus.

An interim management committe was formed, comprising Davis Morgan, Austin Curtis, George Gordon, Jean Menzies (secretary), Jack Smith (treasurer), and W. C. Fyfe, conductor. At a later meeting a president will be chosen. Cyril Warren, formerly accompanist of the Bach Choir, Vancouver, and also organist at Chown Church, acted as accompanist last evening, pending appointment of a permanent accompanist.

The object of the newly-formed Orpheus Society, which hopes eventually to have a membership of 150 of the best voices in the city, is to take up the study of some of the great oratorios and, later on, operatic works. Practices will be held in the First United Church schoolroom for the next week or two, and at the meeting next week rehearsals will begin for the "Hymn of Praise," the big festival chorus, which is to be presented by the society during Musical Festival Week, accompanied by orchestra.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Special Occasion

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Jakeman, of Currie Road, Saanich, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday, and last evening a family party was held at the house. Many old friends called to convey their good wishes and lovely gifts were received. Members of the family presented the couple with a beautiful eiderdown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jakeman were married in Millbrook, Ontario, fifty years ago, and for many years lived in that province and subsequently in Manitoba, coming to the West and settling in Salmon Arm, B.C., before moving to Victoria about ten years ago.

There were thirteen children, of whom nine are now living, five sons and four daughters. The sons are Howard and Albert, of Victoria; Walter, of Los Angeles, and Russell and Edward, of Roblin, Manitoba. The daughters are Mrs. P. E. Michacison and Mrs. F. M. Hamilton, of Victoria; Mrs. R. P. McLean, of Dauphin, Manitoba, and Mrs. G. Henderson, of Los Angeles. There are twenty-five grandchildren.

Mr. Jakeman is sixty-eight years of age and Mrs. Jakeman is seventy-two. Mr. Jakeman's mother, Mrs. Edgington, of Marlborough, Witts., is ninety-one years old and sent greetings to the couple yesterday. Pussy willows and chrysanthemums were used with charming effect on the supper table last evening, Mrs. F. H. Hamilton and Mrs. W. Armstrong assisting the hostess with the arrangements.

CAMPAIGN IS PROGRESSING

Saanich Candidates Address Wards One and Three Ratepayers' Meetings

Municipal election candidates in Saanich continued their active campaigning last night when they presented their views on municipal issues to largely attended meetings in Wards One and Three held at St. Luke's Hall and Gordon Head School, respectively. In the two wards Councillors Fred Borden and William F. Somers have both been returned by acclamation, and while the former presented his annual report, the latter answered questions, having given his report in an address last week. Reeveship, school board and police commission candidates visited both meetings, giving practically identical addresses at the two gatherings.

COUNCILLOR FRED BORDEN

Councillor Fred Borden stated there had been no funds voted for road work last year, all money being required for relief work. About $5,000 was spent on general ward work during 1932, and the only outstanding work done was the clearing out of Bowker Creek. As chairman of the health centre committee, Councillor Borden reported that the cost of operating the centre had been reduced about $1,600 for 1932, compared with 1931. In reply to a question, Councillor Borden said he did not favor cutting down of assessments to meet values at a time like this, as he did not feel it created a very favorable impression.

COUNCILLOR W. F. SOMERS

Councillor W. F. Somers expressed thanks to the ratepayers for their confidence in returning him by acclamation. In reply to a question as to whether there was any prospects of a tax increase for next year, Councillor Somers stated that there would not be if the Provincial Government did not shoulder the municipalities with more burdens and if the bank did not press for liquidation of the overdraft of $38,000. "There are those 'ifs' though," he commented, giving assurance that the actual mill rate would increase in the coming year.

TRUSTEE WILLIAM TOMES

Trustee William Tomes, candidate for re-election to the school board, assured the audience that he had given his best efforts during four years on the board. He felt that the balanced budget shown by that body during the past was "quite a feather in its cap." Trustee Tomes reviewed the year's work in education, bringing to the attention of the ratepayers the principal features, namely, the instigation of the system of high school fees for overage children, the creation of the board's own fire insurance fund, and the reductions effected in teachers' salaries on a graduated scale.

TRUSTEE W. S. THORPE

Trustee W. S. Thorpe, also appealing for re-election to the school board, submitted statistics concerning the cost of education in the municipality during 1932. During the year the total cost was $177,000, of which $100,000 was paid out in teachers' salaries. An average of 2,300 students attended the schools, he said, 400 of whom were high school pupils. Seventy-five teachers were employed. Trustee Thorpe reviewed the situation which would confront the board this year. There would be an additional $20,000 to raise, he stated, which sum, he felt, would have to come chiefly from further reductions in teachers' salaries.

W. W. DUNCAN

W. W. Duncan, candidate for the school board, stated he had been approached to run, and had finally consented to do so after being endorsed by the Ward Six Ratepayers' Association. He had been a ratepayer for ten years, he said, and was actively interested in school affairs. He was not making any election promises which might be broken if he received office. It was his desire, Mr. Duncan declared, to deal with all matters with a free mind, and he could only promise that, if elected, he would do all possible to effect economy.

COMMISSIONER SCAIFE

Commissioner A. E. Scaife, seeking his seventh year on the police commission, briefly reviewed the cost of the department's operation during the past year. He was of the opinion that efficiency could not be maintained at a lower annual cost than the present $13,000.

DAVID G. CLARKE

David G. Clarke, also candidate for the commission, expressed himself as being fully prepared to accept the post if a change was desired. He announced his willingness, if elected, to attend regular ward meetings and report on the commission's work.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Trustee Frank H. Partridge expressed his regret at having to retire from the school board owing to business reasons.

Solarium Girl Given Medal of Fortitude

An interesting little ceremony took place at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Malahat Beach, on Monday, when one of the girl patients, Sheena Menzies, was presented with the Girl Guide Medal for Fortitude "for pluck and endurance during a long and painful treatment." As the recipient is a member of the Solarium Girl Guide Company, the presentation was made by the Provincial Commissioner of Girl Guides, Mrs. Alan Morkill. Mrs. Kinloch, retiring Guide commissioner of the district, and Lord and Lady Colville, who have been keenly interested in the Scout and Guide organizations of the Solarium from the beginning, were among those present when the presentation was made.

Publishers of Book Recommend the Work To Foreign Readers

"Truth About the American Navy," Written by Group of Naval Officers' Club, Contains "Correct and Useful Information"

Considered of sufficient importance by its publishers to advertise it, though in Japanese, in an English-language newspaper and recommend it to foreign readers, a book entitled "The Truth About the American Navy," has been written by members of the Yushukai Group in the Naval Officers' Club, including Rear Admiral Takeda, Rear Admiral Tanetsugu Safusa, Captain Hikota Hirose, Captain Nobuharu Nohara, Captain Tatsumi Ave, Commander Kiichi Iwamoto and Dr. Ujiro Oyama, the last of whom is an authority on diplomatic matters.

The index shows that the book deals with the history of relations between Japan and the United States, American territorial aggrandizement, American naval wars, American war preparations and similar topics.

In a foreword, Vice-Admiral Sankichi Takahashi, vice-chief of the naval general staff, declares that the book gives "correct and useful information," and stands above any attempt to be "instigatory or damaging."

PACIFIC SITUATION

The opening article by Captain Fujita, considers the situation on the Pacific. He pays a high tribute to the vigorous attitude shown by Foreign Minister Count Yasuya Uchida, in the last session of the Diet, and urges continuation of the nation's present determination regarding the Manchurian issue.

"The Far Eastern policy of the United States has been deadlocked by Japan's independent recognition of Manchukuo," according to Captain Fujita, "for this action ignored the will of the United States. The American authorities seem somewhat shaken in their convictions about the old policy. Depending on the course taken by the United States in the future, a tense situation may be created.

"The League of Nations is an American puppet. From behind, the United States pulls the wires. As George Bronson Rea declared in the June issue of the Far Eastern Review, an economic boycott inaugurated by the League against Japan will be futile as long as the Japanese navy maintains its present strength and supremacy in the Pacific. A boycott, furthermore, would lead to danger of war. The Pacific situation is menacing, but it is very unlikely that Japan will take the aggressive. Nor will the United States move its navy in a careless manner unless developments threaten its national safety.

STAND TOGETHER

"To know America and the Americans is important for the Japanese. The Anglo-Saxons say that blood is thicker than water. They often quarrel, but they stand together against other races. There is always a possibility of Britain entering an alliance against Japan. This possibility and the financial power of the United States must be of concern to our nation. We are skeptical, however, whether Britain will ever be foolish enough to pull chestnuts from the fire for the United States. What would the Soviet Union do if an Anglo-American alliance were formed?

"America is not a country of liberty. Many are the contradictions to the fundamental spirit of liberty. Nobody lacking fortune is given due social recognition. American prejudice against Catholics, Jews and Negroes is well known. Because of American prejudice, Japan has had to take many sacrifices during the past three decades.

"Japanese navy men must bear in mind, when referring to American naval matters, that the American navy has gone through several naval wars with the odds in its favor. Even the British navy, which boasts of magnitude and strength, has no assurance of defeating it. To keep its high prestige, this invincible navy is training officers and bluejackets. Had the American navy become Japan's enemy in the past, it would have been no easy task to defeat it. Since the Washington Conference, moreover, Japan has felt the pressure of the American navy. Our navy at present cannot face the American navy with equal strength."

The bulk of the volume is devoted to statistics about the United States navy, for the most part translated from American publications. The intention is taken to be that Japan must strengthen its navy if it wants to fight the United States on an equal footing.

U.S. DIPLOMACY

The statistics are followed by a long article on American diplomacy by Dr. Oyama. He finds three basic foreign policies: the Monroe Doctrine, Pan-Americanism and the Open Door. After giving their historical background, Dr. Oyama charges that the United States is now using the Open Door policy, which originated in the nation's desire to participate in Chinese affairs, to interfere with Japan.

Among other things, Dr. Oyama states: "Japan does not want to go to war with the United States, and the United States has no reason to fight Japan. Though sentimental and temperamental, Americans are also very calculating. They do not fight unless certain of success. They maintained the ratio of five to three in capital ships and airplane carriers at the Washington Conference. . . . Though the American navy succeeded in holding dominance in the Orient, it has not yet built up to treaty strength, and is not confident of victory in battle. According to specialists, the American navy cannot be absolutely confident of defeating the Japanese navy even if at full treaty strength. The United States has concentrated its fleet in the Pacific because of the threatening situation across the ocean."

SEEK PICTURES IN CANAL ZONE

Panama Pacific Line Agents Will Photograph Objects of Interest

Equipped with special apparatus photographing the howling monkeys of Barro Colorado Island, in the Panama Canal Zone, and also with an ingenious under-water camera for making studies of sea monsters on the bed of the Gulf of Panama, Winfield M. Thompson, field agent and publicity manager for the Panama Pacific Line, is now on his way to the isthmus.

Accompanying Mr. Thompson was Ernest Corts, motion picture cameraman, who for several months past has been engaged in filming California scenes for motion picture distribution.

TO FILM CANAL

Under Mr. Thompson's direction, Mr. Corts will film the Panama Canal, the long-abandoned Spanish treasure trail across the isthmus from Old Panama to Porto Bello, and characteristic scenes in Panama City, in addition to making varied studies of animal life and deep-sea scenes.

Fish to be sought include the giant ray, weighing up to a ton, and sharks that are even heavier.

FACILITIES OFFERED

Mr. Thompson has been offered the use of a naval seaplane in which to visit the Pearl Islands and other outlying points in quest of big fish, while an official tug has been placed at his disposal for his work in the Panama Canal.

The films made on the expedition will be used as a travelogue for the Panama Pacific Mail, and in educational features to be released on theatrical circuits.

AUSTRALIA CONSIDERS SUBSIDIES FOR SHIPS

Legislation granting subsidies to Australian lines engaged in interstate passenger trade will be considered by the Australian Government as a means of meeting the competition of American subsidized shipping services to British Empire ports. Preference to overseas British ships by permitting them to enter interstate trade will probably be part of the Government's programme.

Excursion Fares For 1933 Season Same as in 1932

Announcement is made by the Canadian Passenger Association in Montreal that the same low round-trip excursion fares governing excursions to various Eastern points will be in effect during the coming season, as last year. Tickets will be on sale one week earlier this year, commencing May 15, while a special arrangement has been made so that passengers destined for the Old Country may secure their tickets as early as May 8.

It is expected that a further announcement will shortly be made covering specially low limit fares to destinations east of Chicago and Port Arthur, but with an increased limit of from thirty to forty-five days.

In addition to these fares, there will be a special fare for those who have only two weeks' vacation. This will be single fare plus fifty cents, and will apply to such principal points as Chicago, Winnipeg and West, allowing a return limit of sixteen days from date of sale.

Transpacific Ships Report Heavy Gales While En Route Here

Tantalus, Hiye Maru and Jefferson Encountered Storms — Tug Destroyed — Sea Thrush Finished—Stowaways Put Ashore

From ports in China and Japan, the Blue Funnel Line Ss. Tantalus, Captain Charles F. Melling, arrived alongside Rithet Piers shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The liner had thirty-one steerage passengers for the port, some cargo and mails. The Seattle cargo included a shipment of silk for New York.

Officers of the Tantalus reported stormy weather on the North Pacific, which slowed up the ship considerably, delaying her arrival here almost twenty-four hours.

Inbound from ports in Japan, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motor liner Hiye Maru reached William Head quarantine station at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. After obtaining pratique, the ship proceeded to Vancouver. The Hiye Maru had one first-class and fourteen third class passengers for Canada; and one first, eleven second and twelve third class travelers for the United States. Her cargo totaled 1,307 tons, with 1,042 bags of mail. Passengers reported heavy seas all the way from Yokohama.

SOME PASSENGERS

Among the passengers for Canada were Sydney Richmond, Vancouver, returning home from a visit to Australia via Japan; Mr. and Mrs. A. Bakker, of Yokohama, en route to Europe; Miss Maija Pitkanon, Yokohama, proceeding to Finland, her former home; Mrs. Maria Oresean, Yokohama, en route to Lithuania; Mrs. Kohisa Uchiyame, wife of the Japanese Consul at Seattle, returning from a visit to Japan, and Miss Kyong Shin Songa, music student from Tokio, on her way to attend the University of Michigan.

From the Philippine Islands via China and Japan ports, the American Mail Line Ss. President Jefferson was to dock at Rithet Piers at 4 o'clock this morning, almost twenty-four hours late. The ship encountered the heavy weather prevailing on the North Pacific during the past two weeks, which prevented her keeping the scheduled time of arrival. For Victoria, the Jefferson has passengers, mail and cargo, the latter consisting of 350 tons of general. Completing here, the ship will proceed to Seattle.

RESTLESS BURNED

Catching fire while moored at Saanichton wharf early Saturday morning, the towboat Restless, owned and operated by the MacFarlane Towing Company, was totally destroyed, and the charred remains now lie on the beach nearby.

Bound from Victoria to Nanaimo, the Restless went alongside the wharf for fuel, and while waiting for daylight, the crew "turned in." It was not long after when they were aroused by smoke. They cut the boat loose from the wharf and made their escape, although Captain McPhee had a close call, being almost asphyxiated by the smoke.

Battered by the sea since she went ashore on the Columbia River early in December, the freighter Sea Thrush at last has taken the count, and now lies in two pieces. The Sea Thrush went aground on December 4, and a fleet of salvage ships failed to haul her off. Efforts to save the cargo proved futile, although the salvors managed to recover some of the vessel's equipment.

ADVENTURE SHORT

Anxious to reach Shanghai, where they fancied there might be something doing for them, two Vancouver lads were discovered aboard the freighter Fernlane, outward bound from Vancouver yesterday morning.

Stowing away in the ship's rope locker before she left the Mainland port, the boys made a bad guess when they figured enough time had elapsed to put them beyond Cape Flattery and into the Pacific. Revealing themselves, they discovered they were still within reach of the shore, and were a trifle disappointed when sent ashore in the pilot boat in charge of Immigration Inspector John Gibson, who met the ship following a message from the captain of the Fernlane, saying that he would land the stowaways here.

Completing her discharge of Scotch coal at Rithet Piers, the freighter Nordbo sailed for Mainland ports at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SAILING SOUTH

Southbound, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Emma Alexander will arrive at Rithet Piers at 10 o'clock tonight. Embarking Island and Mainland travelers, the Emma will sail for San Francisco and Wilmington at midnight.

Several ships are expected here within the next ten days to load lumber for overseas ports, according to King Brothers, local shipping agents. The dates of their arrival have not been set yet, nor the amount of cargo they will take.

Flying Solo Across Wide Tasman Sea

SIR CHARLES KINGSFORD-SMITH
world-famous transatlantic flyer and former holder of the England-to-Australia record, took off from Sydney yesterday morning on a 1,200-mile flight to New Zealand. He was aided by favorable weather on the trip, the feature of which was to be the use of radio-telephony, which was to keep him in touch with several land stations while en route.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP). — The Norwegian Ms. Nordbo will arrive Wednesday to Canadian Transport Company, Limited, to discharge 5,600 tons of Leith coal for Vancouver.

French Line Ms. San Antonio arrived at 6 o'clock this morning from Europe to the Empire Shipping Company.

Ms. Pacific Commerce is sailing today on schedule for Saint John, Halifax and England. She will return next Summer, her charter having been renewed. She will be the first ship out of Montreal, probably early in May, on the Vancouver-Montreal Line service of the Canadian Transport Company, Limited.

Ss. Princess Norah sailed this morning for Ocean Falls on a special trip to pick up a full cargo of paper for R.M.S. Empress of Japan for China and Japan.

Union Steamships, Limited, report that Ss. Catala, resuming the Prince Rupert-Anyox-Stewart run, will sail Friday night, January 13, at 9 o'clock, replacing Ss. Cardena, which will take over the Rivers Inlet, Skeena River and Prince Rupert run, now maintained by Ss. Venture. Ss. Cardena will make her first sailing on this run on Monday, January 16. Ss. Venture will lay up until the Spring schedule of the company goes into effect in some weeks' time.

LITTLE SHIP HAS BIG JOB

Cruiser Champion, Survivor of Several Actions, Gunnery-Training Vessel

This is the story of a little ship, one of the oldest and smallest cruisers in the navy, which nevertheless passes her declining years in an atmosphere of cordite and concussion, and is more frequently "in action" than any other of the King's ships. H.M.S. Champion, laid down in 1913 and completed during the second year of the war, is a cruiser of 3,920 tons. She was heavily in action on many occasions, including Jutland.

Since 1925 she has been gunnery-training ship at Portsmouth. Her job is to give practical instruction in shooting. Three times a week the Champion steams out into the channel and fires up to 200 rounds from each of her four six-inch guns.

"Imagine a little ship which discharges, on an average, 7,000 full calibre rounds from her six-inch guns in the course of a year. Every round from a six-inch gun consists of a cordite charge of thirty pounds and 100-pounder projectile. Then multiply that by 800 and one will gain a faint idea of the shattering and eruptive, I will not say nerve-wracking," says The Daily Telegram naval correspondent, "conditions in which the officers and ship's company of H.M.S. Champion live.

MUZZLE ENERGY

"Every time a six-inch gun is fired with a full charge it develops a muzzle energy of 6,000 ft. tons, which means that the force of the explosion at the muzzle is such as would lift a sizeable cruiser a foot above sea level; in fact, the aggregate muzzle-end energy from Champion's guns fired in the course of a year would probably suffice to left the entire Home Fleet out of the water.

"One might suppose that the almost continuous discharge and concussion of high-powered guns would wreak havoc on the structure and machinery of such a small unarmored ship, but the supposition would be wrong. The engineer chief officer of Champion tells me that her machinery is as sound today as when it was built into the ship nineteen years ago.

"After a heavy day's firing the electric leads may give a little trouble, but apart from this, neither structure nor machinery shows any ill-effects from the terrific firing; indeed, in her unobtrusive way, Champion is a floating miracle of British workmanship.

USED AS TARGET

"Nor are her duties confined to gunnery practice alone; she is frequently used as a target by submarines and torpedo planes, and I am told that her bilge keels bear the scars of the innumerable "tin fish" which have telescoped their dummy war-heads against her staunch little hull.

"It is on Champion that our young naval officers and gunlayers receive practical instruction in the use of the deadly six-inch gun, which is to be the main armament of all our future cruisers.

"Doors and pictures and other fragile and unsecured articles have to be taken down before every practice, and as such shoots take place several times a week, it will be readily understood that the amenities of home life have largely to be foregone."

WHEAT VESSELS ARE CHARTERED

Ships Now Loading 1,250,000 Tons of Australia's 1932 Crop

The next "wheat race" from Australia promises to be the most interesting in recent years. Merchants of the Southern Dominion announce that 119 vessels have already been chartered, including many sailing ships, particularly from South Australia. Ninety-four boats have already been chartered in other states, and will carry approximately 67,000 tons of wheat, and the lists were extending during December.

Charters arranged in December comprised sixty-four booked for Great Britain; twenty-four for Shanghai; twenty-six for Great Britain or Shanghai; four for Callao, and one for Nanking. South Australia is making ready to ship her record harvest, which at the end of November was estimated at 53,000,000 bushels, of which 1,125,000 tons were to be available for overseas export.

The twenty-five vessels, including that time, could carry only one-tenth of the exportable quantity. Seventy per cent of the ships chartered in Australia are British bottoms. The vessels chartered in Western Australia numbered twenty-five, those in New South Wales twenty-eight, and those in Victoria ten.

The first big shipment from South Australia was to be made about the middle of December, but owing to the cool weather prevailing, Victoria was not expected to be actively exporting much before the first weeks in January.

QUEBEC, Jan. 10 (CP).—Anticipating a revival of transatlantic passenger traffic on the St. Lawrence route next season, steamship companies operating between European ports and Quebec and Montreal, announce increased sailings for 1933. Thirteen more arrivals are scheduled, or a total of 135.

Celebrate Jubilee at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Jan. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. David John, pioneer residents of Nanaimo, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday at their home on Milton Street. Mr. John is seventy-five and Mrs. John eighty years of age. They were married in the registry office in Bridgend, South Wales, January 9, 1883. Six months after their marriage they sailed for New York, spent a few months in Kansas and crossed the plains to California by train, which consisted of two passenger cars attached to a crawling steam engine. They came to Victoria forty-three years ago and then proceeded to Nanaimo by boat.

Mr. John worked in the local mines for thirty-five years without sustaining a single injury. A few days before the big explosion in 1887 that took a large toll of human lives, he was transferred by the company to the Southfield mine. His first job in Nanaimo was helping to sink No. 1 shaft.

Surrounded by their relatives and immediate friends, Mr. and Mrs. John were presented with a purse of gold by their children, and many other gifts from old-time residents, including a three-tier wedding cake from Mrs. John Patterson, Haliburton Street.

They have four children living out of a family of ten, which include two pairs of twins. They are Miss Janet John, Nanaimo; Mrs. Robert Smart, Vancouver; Mrs. A. B. Leach, New Westminster, and Mr. Arthur John, returned soldier, at present in Tranquille Sanitarium. There are two grandchildren, Catherine Smart, Vancouver, and David L. John, Nanaimo.

CHAPTER XXXI.

Only those who are versed in the subject know of the many missing even with most ardent searching for them. Darius Smith began to feel that Carroll Wetherall's name would be linked with "unsolved," and so add to long lists another question that time would fade and finally obliterate. But he went on with his turning of every stone, Michael helping him, and he also went on with his telling Michael that she'd turn up, because he didn't know what would happen to "the poor guy" if he told Michael that which he feared.

They had had several wild goose chases. Mary Todd had telephoned three times, twice to say she had had postcards, each from a different town, and once to say she had had a letter written in the Washington Station. But the most thorough search brought nothing in result from this geographical trinity.

And thus the little game of fox and geese went on, a game increasingly discouraging to Darius Smith. Even the man called "old hopeful" at the office had said loudly and flatly, "That kid's gone!"

"But Mike Wister," Mr. Darius Smith confided to his wife, "is going to keep on hunting her until he dies. 'One life, one love,' like that poem has it; some men are like that."

Mrs. Smith snorted, and she said that all those boys could get into one telephone booth and have plenty of room.

Michael's sister, Joyce, and her husband returned from France to try to divert "poor Michael," and that, Michael found, extremely difficult to bear. There was not, in his mind, any such animal as diversion.

But to please Joyce and his aunt, he did go to Boston for the last week-end of April. It was a quiet visit inasmuch as he would not leave his Aunt Cassandra's house from fear or a surviving, shaken hope that Smith or some one might telephone some news.

However, the visit did help him in a little way, for when he told his aunt that he would like to bring Carroll to the shelter of her wing when Carroll was—deep breath and a stiffening—found, his aunt said gently, "My dear, anything you want is the thing I most want to do."

And that set him to dreaming, in a way he knew to be dangerous, about taking Carroll to his aunt.

Then one afternoon in early May when Michael was brooding upon the fact that Carroll would soon be, if alive, twenty-one, his telephone rang sharply. And with the usual harsh jerk, and rise of hope, he answered it.

Mary Todd was speaking and she was so excited that her words blurred and tangled, and Michael had to ask her to repeat her message again and again. The walls of the room whirled around him as he managed to write a Brooklyn address.

"She's still known as Carrie Jones; she's there caring for two children," said Mary, her usually soft voice shrill. "And doing fine sewing. Can you hear me?"

"Yes, go on."

"They're German people; he designs airplanes; she says they can't read English easily and don't read the papers very much; she said that made it better for her. She says they're very kind—"

Mary's voice went on to reach "good-bye," which Michael heard through such pound as it made by surf.

Michael telephoned Darius Smith. Of course, he reasoned, they would go there to find she had gone somewhere else. It was—always thus. Smith said he would come for Michael to pick him up. Smith was very slow. Michael touched a bell. "Durham," he said when this summons was answered, "you may give me a glass of Scotch, please, and double the dose."

He had been thinking and thinking of how he would stand it the next time he went to find her and missed her. He was hideously and tragically afraid.

"I must be—rottenly weak—" he thought, draining the glass.

"To success, sir!" said Durham with a sincerity that erased the servant's muted tone and left, in its stead, a tremble. His whole regard for Michael, whom he called "my master," had made his days dark. And now he did a little ardent praying.

"Thanks a lot, Durham," said Michael heavily. People should be thanked for kindness, Michael reasoned, even when it and nothing could matter. A few moments later he left his rooms to make speedy downward way to the open where he stood at the edge of the curb, waiting Smith, and peering up and down the street and at his watch.

Smith was (Michael was dizzy again, he found) infernally slow.

Carroll meantime, in a sunny window of a Brooklyn house, looked out upon the harbor as she told a story to Lina and Adolphe. They sat, cross-legged at her feet, their flaxen hair making them look the jonquils that were now faded from every park and garden.

Carroll was thinking of Michael because her story was an echo of a story he had told her years ago.

The story concerned Henry P. Dragon—his mother was a Pain—and a princess who was rescued from a water-tower, and not a drop of anything else to drink, and it was a long story, which held great deeds and the excitement that is made by suspense. And telling it, Carroll remembered how she had always said, "Mike, please, am I the princess?" and how Michael had invariably responded, "If you want to be the princess, you are the princess!" And her further query made of, "And are you the prince?" and Michael's rejoinder which ran, "I don't know that I could be much of a prince, Carroll, but I'll slay all the dragons for you, Carroll; honor bright and cross my heart, I promise that."

But of course, he had promised that before she had hurt him; and after he had had his disagreement with Miss Terrill he had never gone near her again. Some people could neither forgive nor forget that was all of it, and even far too much, she had learned by heart.

"Is that all of the story?" small Adolphe asked.

"It's all of that story," Carroll answered.

"Carrie, dear, tell us another!" Lina begged ardently, but at that moment Mrs. Kauffman appeared in the doorway to say, "Come my little ones, it is now time that we walk ourselves in the park," and speaking, she smiled at Carroll whom she called "Leibchen" more often than anything else.

Both she and her husband, Otto, felt that Carroll was hiding from some one or something, but they trusted her—so nice, so gentle, always with the children—and that this was her matter, they had agreed. At the start, Mrs. Kauffman had said, "Otto, it is that she does not wish to walk herself with the children in the park, but she will make up this omission with extra work, she says."

"And it is good, perhaps," Otto said in turn, "for you to get each day, the air."

And so the matter was arranged.

Carroll fetched the children's outer wraps; then there were pleasantly warm good-byes and Carroll settled upon the window seat from which she could see the harbor and its resting ships and those, which, moving, left water-ribbons in their wake. She heard the front door close.

PLEASED WITH OLD LAND TOUR

B. I. Johnson Will Address Kiwanis Club Next Week on Visit to Britain

B. I. Johnson, of Evans, Coleman, Evans & Johnson Bros., of this city, will be the speaker at the next luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, when he will take as his subject experiences during his recent tour through the British Isles.

Mr. Johnson had an excellent opportunity of studying conditions there, as he rented an automobile upon his arrival in the Old Country and utilized it throughout his journeyings there. To him the Old Land looked exceedingly good, he says. He was struck by the evidence that there was an abundance of money available for all kinds of enterprises.

Modern buildings for the accommodation of people in modest circumstances were being erected under various plans of public assistance, and these were being rented at what would be regarded here as most reasonable figures.

JUVENILE A.O.F. COURT

BLUE RIBBONS DEFEAT TOURING PORTLANDERS

Carnera and Schaaf Will Meet to Decide Sharkey's Opponent

Giant Italian and Boston Heavyweight Matched for Fifteen-Round Bout at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 10—Contracts May Be Ended

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP).—Primo Carnera, the massive Italian, and blonde Ernie Schaaf, of Boston, today were matched to go fifteen rounds or less in Madison Square Garden February 10 to decide a challenger for Jack Sharkey's heavyweight title.

The winner, according to the Garden management, will be matched with the Boston gob for a June championship bout in New York.

Carnera originally had been selected by the Garden as a semi-finalist in its elimination series, made necessary when Max Schmeling, former titleholder, and Max Baer signed with Jack Dempsey. Schaaf won his assignment with a six-round knockout of Stanley Poreda, the New Jersey Pole, last Friday night.

Schaaf is partly owned by Sharkey and has fought most of his best bouts with Jack in his corner, but his contract with the sailorman and John Buckley, Sharkey's manager, is understood to expire March 4 and will not be renewed.

One of the stories going the rounds was that if Schaaf disposes of Carnera, Charley Johnston, brother of the Garden promoter, will take over Ernie's management.

AMATEUR MAT AND BOXING CARD BILLED

City and District Championships Will Be Held on Jan. 27 and 28

Victoria and District amateur boxing and wrestling championships will be staged at the Pacific Stadium on Friday and Saturday, January 27 and 28, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club, it was announced yesterday by Secretary G. R. Lovatt. Many sporting organizations in the city and suburbs have promised support, and a record number of entries is expected.

Both the mat and ring games have enjoyed great popularity during the past year and attendance has been good at the various clubs promoting this branch of amateur sport. Entries in the championships have been promised by the following organizations: Y.M.C.A., North Saanich Athletic Club, directed by Dr. W. Newton; Navy, Garrison, V.I.A.A., Canadian, Scottish, Fifth Brigade, Victoria High School.

SEVEN CLASSES

Both wrestling and boxing will be divided into seven classes, according to weight. The divisions follow: 120 pounds and under, 135 pounds and under, 145 pounds and under, 155 pounds and under, 165 pounds and under, 175 pounds and under and heavyweight.

All contests will be under A.A.U. rules, and contestants will weigh in at least one hour before the start. Medals will be awarded the winners.

The bouts will commence at 8:45 o'clock on Friday, January 27, and it is expected that, owing to the large entry list, it will be impossible to run off the complete list on one day. It is the plan of the organizers to have the opening rounds on the first day and the finals on Saturday, January 28.

Entry forms may be obtained from G. R. Lovatt at the Y.M.C.A. or from "Winnipeg" Chilton at the Gray Line, Yates Street, after 7 p.m.

GREAT CANADIAN ATHLETE PASSES

George Reginald Gray Dies in East —Was Champion Shot Putt for Many Years

SAULTE ST. MARIE, Ont., Jan. 10 (CP).—George Reginald Gray, one of the greatest athletes Canada has ever acclaimed, is dead here. For seventeen years he was champion in the shot putt in Canada and the United States, and at the World's Fair in Chicago, in 1893, he set a world's record of forty-seven feet.

Mr. Gray who was born in Coldwater, Ont., in 1865, toured England and Ireland in 1883, winning the English title at Crewe and Huddersfield and the Irish title at Ballsbridge, Dublin.

For a number of years he competed as a member of the New York Athletic Club, where he had as a clubmate another famous Canadian athlete, George Horton, of Toronto, one of the best milers ever produced in the Dominion. Gray retired from competition in 1902, having won 188 medals and trophies. During his entire athletic career, it is stated that he never took second place in any scratch competitions.

Mr. Gray was vice-president of the Abitibi Pulp & Paper Company.

Doing Well In Second Division Circles

THE fortunes of Fulham Football Club have been varied. Just now the team is climbing in the Second Division and has visions of reaching the First Division. Only a few years ago they sank to the Southern Section of the Third Division, but hard work and the infusion of new blood kept the flag flying at Craven Cottage. Situated in London, Fulham Football Club has quite a connection with Scotswood in the North, for no fewer than five of the London team's players were obtained from Scotswood. A few weeks ago, Fulham purchased Toothill, a goalie, from Wolverhampton Wanderers, and he does not appear in the picture. The players in the picture are: Back row, left to right: Oliver, Gibbon, Iceton, Birch, Penn; front row, left to right: Richards, Hammond, Newton, Price, Finch, Gibbons.

Soccer to Be Resumed At Victoria High School

Coaches Will Get Teams Under Way Early in February—Interdivisional League and Island Championship Games to Be Played

After an absence of two years soccer will make its return at the Victoria High School early in February, it was announced yesterday by Coaches William A. Roper and Hubert Cumberbirch, soccer mentors at the Fernwood institution. The grounds, which were resoiled two seasons ago, are now in first-class condition, and as soon as the school Rugby finishes football will commence. An interdivisional league will be formed and in March or early April a representative team will play off with the leaders in the Upper Island Interhigh School League for the Vancouver Island title.

Since the game has been missing from the high school roster of sports, the coaches have got out of touch, more or less, with the material on hand, but in taking a look about the school the following students were mentioned as likely to make berths on the squad: Jack Okell, Jackie Lund, Bill Levy, "Muzz" Patrick, Doug. Peden, Harold Price and George Hodgson, the latter a clever player from Nanaimo. All of these students are well known in the city leagues, and if a few more players are lined up, Victoria High should repeat its past performances.

HOLD THOMPSON CUP

A brief resume of the high's soccer accomplishments follow: In 1926 the team won the Thompson Cup from Vancouver and in 1927-28 season dropped the trophy to Magee High School of Vancouver. In 1928-29 the squad defeated all local entrants and took Nanaimo into camp after an overtime battle in the Coal City. In that year Vancouver High Schools agreed to drop competition for the Thompson Cup, and so it passed into Victoria High's permanent possession. In the 1930-31 season Nanaimo dropped from active play with Victoria, and to fill the gap for Island play-offs Oak Bay High stepped into the breach. However, the Oak Bay aggregation was unable to down Victoria High and the Island championship went to the local high school.

BATTAGLIA FAVORED TO WHIP JEBY

Canadian Fighter Quoted at Nine to Five to Win Middle Crown

By SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (CP).—If the naked eye is still the best means of judging a fighter, you can bet your doubloons and family jewels that Frankie Battaglia will wreck Ben Jeby when they collide next Friday night in the bout the New York Boxing Commission has ruled is for the world's middleweight title.

As he went through his preping paces in a Broadway gymnasium this afternoon, the Winnipeg Italian showed everything a champion requires. His speed, hitting power and defensive work completely overshadowed the best a pair of iron-jawed sparring partners had to offer.

Against this, New York's Mr. Jeby, in the same ring an hour earlier, appeared sluggish and possibly overtrained. His sparring mates outsped him to the punch many times and penetrated the chin guard he has been developing in the hope of warding off the dynamic punch Battaglia threw his way last Summer to knock him out in one round.

BATTAGLIA FAVORITE

A few of the fight-wise frequenting the gym were heard to offer 8 and 9 to 5 on Frankie's chances, as the Canadian stepped from the ring after almost doubling up his sparring mates—the first with an overhand right to the body; the second with a right cross to the chin.

The rock-defence Battaglia has developed in a past year of sensational ring activity stood out like the proverbial sore finger as he galloped through the impressive workout.

Meantime, over at Madison Square Garden, where the boys reach the end of the trail Friday, the seat sale went along merrily. Fistiana loves a punching-killer, and the popularity Battaglia has built up, along with the apparently inexhaustible supply of ballyhoo, has already assured a sell-out.

Thirty-Five Nominated For Caliente Handicap

Many Crack Thoroughbreds Entered in Rich Race at Mexican Track—Half-Brother of Phar Lap Included in List of Nominations

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 10 (CP).—Thirty-five thoroughbreds have been nominated for the fourth renewal of the Agua Caliente Handicap, March 26, a $50,000 race which drew approximately twice that number of nominations last year.

Judge C. J. Fitzgerald, of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club, said the list might be increased by the receipt from abroad of additional nominations mailed prior to January 2, the closing day.

Two foreign racers were included in the list. Pillow Fight, half-brother of Phar Lap, the New Zealand giant which won the race last year, and Boy Painter, which arrived yesterday from England.

Plucky Play and Scimitar, which finished third in the 1931 and 1932 handicaps, respectively, were among this year's nominees.

Abe Bartelstein and Harry Unna named from their stable six possible starters to head the list in numbers.

Six three-year-olds were nominated, including the Hawaiian gelding, Hueu, and the filly which ran so well here last year, Loversall.

The list follows:

Wirt O. Bowman, Bamboula, Waylayer, Sidney Grant, Hygro, Yonkel, Polydorus, Lemon Hills, Old Depot, Satin Spar, Plucky Play, Gallant Sir, Whizz James, Pillow Fight, Dis Dat, Miss Vacuum, Hueu, Jim Dandy, Loversall, Scimitar, Bahamas, Nacho, Alexander Pantages, Sharp Thoughts, Book Bard, Rasper, Beeson, Midshipman, Quick-away, Boy Painter, Tug o' War, The Nut, Bonny Maureen, Mad Pursuit, and Economic.

LOCAL CAGE TEAM SHOWS FINE FORM IN 38-25 VICTORY

Art Chapman and Muzz Patrick Shine in Victoria's Great Triumph Over Visiting Cagers —Defeat Marks First of Annual Tour —Harmony Wins From Laundry

Generated by two brilliant sharpshooting forwards, Muzz Patrick and Art Chapman, coupled with a stellar defence, Blue Ribbons handed the invading Multnomah Club cage squad from Portland their first setback of their annual tour of Vancouver Island last night at the High School gymnasium, by coming through with a great 38-to-25 victory after a dazzling exhibition. Harmony nosed out Standard Steam Laundry women in the opener, in a league fixture of the city loop, by a 22-21 score. First United chalked up their second straight win at the expense of Cameron's Lumber in the men's "B" division, 22-20. One of the largest crowds of the season watched the games and was treated to some fine basketball.

A decided height and weight advantage was the big factor in the Ribbons' decisive victory. The locals outweighed their opponents man for man and used this advantage time and again during both halves. Patrick opened the scoring early in the first half with two baskets in succession, while Hunt converted a foul shot to start Portland on their way. Craig scored from Patrick under hoop and then the latter banged in A. Chapman's pass. Patrick intercepted a pass and went in alone to score to make it 10-1 for Victoria. Keenan, who turned in a great game for the visitors, faked a shot and went under the hoop to tally, while Patrick made it 12-3 from Craig.

EARLY LEAD

Tommy Little scored and was fouled, but missed. Portland called time out after ten minutes. Ribbons continued their fine display, while little Billy Keenan kept the visitors in the battle with some of the finest baskets seen at the gym this season. The locals left the court at the interval with a 18-13 margin. Keenan opened the second half with two quick baskets and then Craig scored to make it 20-17. Art and Chuck Chapman came through with successive field goals and then Keenan broke loose from his check and potted a beauty with one hand from the side court. Portland made a change at this stage, Reimer going on for Hunt. Miller went off on four personals and Hunt took his place. The game continued at a fast pace with the Ribbons holding a slight advantage as far as baskets were concerned. Tommy Little and Johnny Craig were ruled off on fouls, but the Ribbons were still intact with substitutes going on. Art Chapman was throwing them at a fast clip as the game progressed to keep the Ribbons in front. Keenan never stopped and was the pivot player in all of Portland's offensives.

Keenan led the scorers with seventeen points, while Muzz Patrick, with fifteen, and Art Chapman, with ten, were high for the Ribbons. Chuck Chapman, Joe Ross and Little all turned in good games for the locals, while Green, Applegate and Hunt worked hard for the visitors.

CHURCHMEN WIN

Four fine baskets by Holdridge, star forward, in the second half was the deciding factor in First United's win over Cameron's. The churchmen were trailing at the halfway mark by a lone point, the score being, 11 to 10. Holdridge potted some fine field goals in the last canto with the assistance of his teammates, and was responsible for his team's decision by the odd basket.

Two baskets each by I. Alexander, M. Purdy and E. Mathews brought Harmony through to a close decision over the Laundry quintette. Laundry led at the interval by a 14-10 score and fought hard in the last half for the verdict, but fell short by a lone point. It was a good, fast game and was anybody's to the final whistle.

Tommy Macedo and Tommy Forbes handled the main game, while the former was in charge of the first two games.

Portland—Miller, Keenan (17), Green (2), Applegate (2), Reimer. Hunt (3).

Blue Ribbons—A. Chapman (10), Craig (4), C. Chapman (4), Litta (3), Sluggett (2), Ross (2), McKeown, Patrick (15).

THISTLES TO FACE DOCKERS IN MAIN TILT

Saanich Eleven to Meet Leaders in Coast Soccer —Wests Tackle City

Esquimalt and Saanich Thistles will clash in the feature game on the First Division card of the Pacific Coast Football League Saturday afternoon. The teams will meet on the lower Beacon Hill grounds, with Ralph Alcock as referee. Victoria West and Victoria City will meet in the second fixture at Hampton Road, with W. Robb in charge of the whistle. Two matches are billed in the Second Division, Victoria West facing Saanich Thistles at Reynold's Field, and Esquimalt and Victoria City clashing at upper Beacon Hill. All games will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

The dockers are still undefeated in the race for the second half championship and another win will practically clinch them the honors. Saanich will be out with the same line-up that carried them through to the first half laurels and expect to put a sudden halt to the winning streak of the squad bearing the colors of the dockyard village. With the Wests-City game billed in the suburban district, one of the best crowds of the season is expected to head for the Hill.

CITY STRENGTHENED

Wests, due to their fine showings of late, will be favored over the City. "Scotty" Robinson has added a strong scoring punch to the green-shirts' front rank and again will be the pivot player in their attack against the City eleven. The addition of Billy Boyd, former Esquimalt star, to the City squad, has strengthened the half line. Boyd transferred to the City about three weeks ago and played his first game for them against his old teammates on Boxing Day.

NEW SENIOR B SCHEDULE TO BE MADE

Wanderers Leave League —McKechnie Cup Plans Same as Boxing Day

Arrangements for the McKechnie Cup game against Varsity Saturday will be the same as on Boxing Day, it was decided at the meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union last night. Two wickets will be in operation at the Royal Athletic Park, and prices will be the same as at the last game against Vancouver.

Little business was transacted at the meeting, a new schedule for the senior "B" division was ordered to be drawn up, owing to the withdrawal of the Wanderers team, and a wholesale transference of extra Garrison players to the Navy, to aid the sailors in continuing with a senior "B" fifteen was authorized by the meeting.

The 5th Brigade intermediate will journey to Shawnigan Lake School Saturday to tackle the school in a friendly match. Shawnigan Lake players defeated University School, Intermediate League leaders, by a good margin last month, so the match should prove a hard one for the Gunners.

President Russell Ker presided at the meeting, which was well attended.

DETROIT, Jan. 10 (CP).—Buffalo Bisons, bidding furiously for leadership of the International Hockey League, defeated Detroit Olympics 3-1 here tonight in a rough contest.

TORONTO WIDENS LEAD BY TROUNCING RANGERS

Queen City Icemen Trim New York 3-2 In Speedy Fixture

Free-for-All Features Rough Battle as Champions Whip Rangers—Bruins Defeat Senators, 3-2, in Overtime—Amerks Turn Back Hawks, 3-1

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP). — Toronto Maple Leafs rose to championship heights tonight to turn back New York Rangers, 3-2, in a rough, speedy National Hockey League Game. A disputed goal and a free-for-all fight featured, as the Leafs stretched their group lead to eight points over the defeated Ottawa Senators and idle Maroons.

The shorthanded Leafs held the speedy blue shirts even in a fast first period; ran in two goals in the second and baited an avalanche of swirling Patrickmen in a wildly exciting third period. Lorne Chabot halted a deluge of rubber as Rangers played every man up after the New Yorkers had cut the Leaf's lead to one goal in the first two minutes.

Bun Cook gave Rangers the lead early in the first period on assists from Frank Boucher and Bill Cook. Chabot apparently had saved the shot, but the goal judge ruled the puck struck the inside of the post, and the goal stood. Ace Bailey evened matters near the end of the period on a brilliant combination play.

Bailey and Hap Day added Toronto goals in the second period, and Ching Johnson got the second Ranger goal in the third.

Red Horner and Bill Cook exchanged blows in the second session and players of both squads joined in to make it a brief free-for-all. The originators each drew a ten-minute double major penalty.

Summary

First period, 1, Rangers, F. Cook (Boucher-W. Cook), 2:20; Toronto, Bailey (Clancy), 15:44. Penalties: Horner, Brennan, Somers.

Second period, 3, Toronto, Bailey (Thoms-Cotton-Clancy), 1:28; 4, Toronto, Day, 18:55. Penalties: Blair, W. Cook (double major), Thoos, Bun Cook, Horner (double major).

Third period, 5, Rangers, Johnson (Boucher), 1:15. Penalties: Day, E. Selbert, Brennan.

WIN IN OVERTIME

BOSTON, Jan. 10 (AP).—Boston Bruins took the measure of Ottawa Senators in a National League overtime hockey game in the Boston garden tonight, 3-2. It made the count between the clubs for the season three wins for the Bruins and one tie in four games.

Dit Clapper, right-wing man of the Bruins, gave his team its first victory in five starts when, in the overtime, he picked up a loose puck in front of the Bruin bench, raced to the end and cut in to whip it past the bewildered Senator goalie, Bill Beveridge.

It was Harry Oliver who knotted the count, on a pass from Red Beattie.

Summary

First period, 1, Ottawa, Cox (Bourgeault), 8:58; 2, Ottawa, Hec Kilrea (Welland), 11:23; 3, Boston, Stewart, 12:57; 4, Boston, Oliver (Beattie), 16:25. Penalties: W. Kilrea, Clapper, Smith, Touhey, Lamb.

Second period, no score. Penalties: Jerwa, Galbraith, Shields.

Third period, no score. Penalty: Smith.

Overtime period, 5, Boston, Clapper, 9:04.

AMERKS MOVE UP

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP).—The sometimes amazing New York Americans climbed into a three-way tie with Ottawa and Montreal Maroons for second place in the international section of the National Hockey League tonight by turning back Chicago Black Hawks, 3-1.

After a very dull first period, the teams began to open up in the second, gathered momentum after the Amerks scored half way through the period and finished with a burst of high-speed wide-open hockey.

Roy Worter's goal tending was the big feature of the game, although Nick Wasnie made a clever play to score the first goal. Duke Dutkowski made the second American tally early in the third period and Normie Himes the third on a break-away just before the final bell. Donnie McFadyen scored Chicago's only goal.

Summary—First period, no score; penalties, Abel.

Second period, 1, Americans, Wasnie (Himes-Shepard) 10:59, penalty, Filmore. Third period, 2, Americans, Dutkowski, 4:21; 3, Chicago, McFadyen (Cook-Graham) 13:20; 4, Americans, Himes, 19:52.

RICH GOLF MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

Record Field Will Seek $7,500 Pot at Caliente—Gene Sarazen Ill

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 10 (AP).—The fairway leading to the largest pot of gold on the Western Winter golf trail will be a well-worn trail by tomorrow night, for 184 golfers were ready tonight to tee off in the fourth annual Agua Caliente open tournament, which this year is worth $7,500.

Some of the color faded from the tournament yesterday when Gene Sarazen, British and American open champion and winner of the first Agua Caliente open, was taken ill with influenza in Los Angeles. But the largest field in the tournament's history and a number of expert shot-makers should keep it from being drab.

WOOD IS ENTRANT

Fred Morrison, the big Pasadena pro, who won the tournament last year, when it paid $15,000 in prizes, will defend his title, and Craig Wood, of Deal, N.J., whose well-nigh perfect game has brought him victory in three money tournaments in quick succession, led the pack which will try to wrest it from him.

Wood's victory yesterday in the $5,000 Los Angeles open, which he finished with a seventy-two-hole score of 281, three better than par, firmly planted him in the favorite's position, even without considering his victories in the Pasadena and San Francisco tournaments.

No one has won two Agua Caliente tournaments, although Sarazen finished second last year after winning in 1930, when the prize money totaled $25,000. George von Elm and Johnny Golden, who tied for first place in 1931, with Morrison, will try to break the jinx this year.

LOUGHRAN WINS OVER LEVINSKY

Former Light-Heavyweight Champion Decisions Chicago Contender

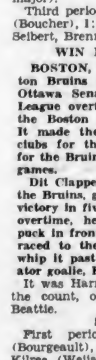

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 (AP).—With stiff left jabs that stopped his opponent's slugging rushes, Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight titleholder, tonight won a ten-round decision over King Levinsky, burly Chicago heavyweight. Loughran scaled 187 1-2 pounds and Levinsky 199.

Fighting a heady, although strictly defensive bout, Loughran kept his swinging opponent off with his extended left and rarely elected to trade punches with the Midwesterner. He moved far in advance in the early rounds. His stiff left bewildered the wild-swinging King.

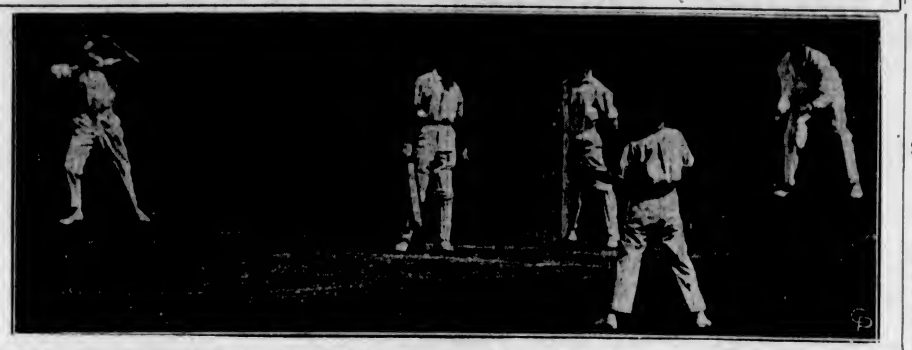

With a barrage of smashing left hooks, unknown Winston, of Hartford, Conn., battered Jim D'Arey, Los Angeles heavyweight, to the canvas three times in the first round to win a one-minute three-second knockout in the scheduled eight-round semi-wind-up.

Unusual Incident During Cricket Test Match

HERE is an interesting incident that occurred in the first cricket test match between England and Australia at the Sydney Oval. Here you see Stanley McCabe, at silly mid-off, throwing up his hands in amazement when Herbert Sutcliffe, the English batsman, played a ball from O'Reilly, the spin bowler, into his wicket without dislodging the bails. W. A. Oldfield, the Australian wicket keeper, is looking down at the ball and one can almost hear him say, "How did that happen?" O'Reilly is the bowler who made such a mess of England in the second test.

Looking Back

BASEBALL AND GOLF

Today more than a hundred golf courses are dotted with ball players, big leagures and minor leaguers, whanging away at the round, white pill.

Many of these ball players are fine golfers, and all of them are keen for the game.

But there was a different attitude more than twenty years ago when I finally persuaded Matty, Merkle, Mike Donlin and other old-timers to take their shot at Scotland's ancient and elusive art.

I recall one round in particular, at the Schenley Park Course, Pittsburgh, back around 1911 or 1912, when Mike Donlin and I, accepted a challenge from Christy Mathewson and Fred Merkle, of the Giants.

Just as I started my down-swing from the first tee, Matty made some remark, and the result was a topped drive.

I offered an immediate and violent squawk, to be met with this rebuttal:

"Listen—what's the idea? We have to play ball every day with from 10,000 to 20,000 people yelling and cheering and jeering, and we never notice it. What kind of a game is this?"

I tried to explain that golf and baseball, in this respect, were two entirely different games, but made no headway. So it was agreed that any one of the bunch could talk, yell, or call out at any given moment.

Reaching the first green, Matty had a three putt to win the hole. Just as the blade of his putter started moving forward, Mike Donlin yelled out, "Look out for the slope!" Matty missed the cup six inches.

At the second tee, facing a deep ravine, both Donlin and I spoke in loud tones about the depth of the abyss, to be carried just as Matty and Merkle started their down-swings. Both topped into the yawning grotto. And both emitted words, which could be described only as "the call of the wild."

It was agreed then and there to cut out the conversation while one was swinging.

All three discovered that day the big difference between mass noise at a ball game and sudden, unexpected sound thrown into the tension of a golf swing.

A NEW RESPECT

It was on this same trip that Matty and Merkle located a new respect for golf which all ball players now have.

Twenty years ago, for most of them, it was merely old man's croquet.

This happened to be an off-day in the Middle-West, so Matty and Merkle and the writer got an early start. The temperature that day was around 106—which was warm enough. As Matty had won nine straight games and was to pitch next day, the suggestion was made that we quit at the end of 36 holes.

Neither Matty nor Merkle, at that time, could see any strain or exercise in a round of golf.

At the end of 54 holes, we finally staggered back to the hotel. The next day Matty was knocked out of the box in the third inning with seven runs scored against him, and Merkle fanned three times. And I had to keep out of McGraw's sight for a week.

This was another experience which gave the ball player a deeper respect for golf.

Both Matty and Merkle developed aptitude for the game and would break an 80 now and then where the average entry would still have been in the 90's.

EARLY STARS

The best of the early baseball golfers I played with around twenty years ago, was Charles Albert Bender, the Chippewa Chief, then the pitching star of the Athletics.

Bender had one of the greatest competitive temperaments I ever saw at any game he played.

He was known as the greatest one-game money pitcher in the world, and whenever the chance came, I always picked the Chief as a golf partner. He was a tiger in a close pinch. He had a mixture of courage and coolness and a complete lack of tension under heavy pressure.

After the famous Athletic-Giant series of 1911, I asked the Chief about the arguments he had with Stuffy McInnis and Eddie Collins through the first game.

The Chief grinned. "I was throwing curve balls to first and second on assists," he said. "They were both 'going to kill me.'"

"What was the idea of the curve ball on an infield assist?" I asked.

"They are both young," the Chief said, "and they seemed to be a little keyed up. So I just wanted to let them know that a World Series game was still nothing but a ball game, and I wanted to get their minds off the importance of the occasion. One curve ball to Collins almost got away on a play at second, so I quit it after that."

It was to golf that Larry Lajoie and Cy Young turned after their ball game days were over. It will be to golf that Babe Ruth also will turn for his main sport when home-run days are through.

The best golfers among leading ball players today are Sammy Byrd and Babe Ruth of the Yankees, Sam Rice of the Senators, Lefty O'Doul of Brooklyn, and Paul Waner of the Pirates, to mention only a few. But Sammy Byrd is the pick of the lot, with several rounds between 66 and 70, and one of the mightiest drives known to golf.

Sports Hall Is Considered by Saanich Board

Saanich Board of Trade held a meeting at the Women's Institute Hall, Brentwood, on Monday, to discuss the building of a sports hall. The movement was endorsed by those in attendance and the following committee was appointed to inquire into the matter and report at a later meeting: Captain Babington (chairman), A. Bickford, S. Carrier, R. Bagley, T. Welker, T. Peden and M. Rice. Other business was left over until the next meeting.

The boys are evenly matched and a fast bout should result.

Elevens in the Wednesday Football League will resume competition in the Hayward Cup series this afternoon, with two matches on the programme. In the feature attraction, Navy and Hudson's Bay will tangle on the lower Beacon Hill grounds, while Empress Hotel and Hearts will fight it out at Heywood Avenue Grounds. An exhibition game is billed between Saanich United and the new entry in the league, Spencer's, at Central Park. All games will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

Navy and the Bays will be fighting for the leadership, and one of the best games of the present schedule is expected. Although the Tars will be without some of their regulars, due to the ships leaving on their annual cruise in Southern waters, they will have a strong team on hand with hopes of gaining the points. Dick Eaton will march out an evenly balanced club representing the departmentals. This will mark the first meeting of these teams, and the fans will watch with great interest the outcome.

Empress Hotel and Hearts will be striving for much needed points, as both are anxious to stay out of the cellar. The hotelmen are in last place, while the Hearts are just a point ahead of them. Spencer's will make their debut against Saanich, and the result will be followed closely by league officials.

Hudson's Bay will line up as follows: Shrimpton, Clarke, Davis, Cull, Woodley, Oakman, Fish, Coates, Bently, Collier and A. N. Other.

Hearts' line-up follows: McMillan, Champion, McBride, Hickman, M. Speller, A. Speller, Brown, Bryant, Preston, McBride, Newall.

DORTMUND, Germany, Jan. 10 (CP).—With eighty-eight hours gone by, Goebel and Fijnenburg, of Germany, were leading the six-day bicycle race here. The pair had ridden 1,311 miles and collected 335 sprint points to hold their lead over Rausch and Hurtgen, who had 258 points. In third place was the French team of Broccardo and Quimbretiere with 198 points. Two laps behind were Torchy Peden, Victoria, and Bernard Stubecke, of Germany, who had only 76 points.

Stock and Bond Prices Advance At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP).—Financial markets gave optimism the benefit of the doubt today and quotations lifted, in some cases smartly.

Shares, after a couple of hesitant hours, swung upward with a vigor that suggested hasty short covering, reserving their best efforts for the last hour when wheat's climb of 2 to 2 1-2 cents a bushel brought livelier action on the stock exchange. Cotton had a less strenuous session, but added 45 to 75 cents a bale to its market value.

The rise that finally brought many net gains of one to four points for shares started in a rather desultory way shortly after noon, following publication of U.S. Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage statement. The backlog dropped only 161 tons in December and because a larger decrease had been widely expected, traders found a pleasant surprise in this news.

Sales during the last fifty minutes approximated 600,000 shares, roughly half the total day's business of 1,146,837 shares.

U.S. Steel issues were in demand, the common rising more than two points and the preferred about four. Case jumped around four points and Harvester nearly two, while mail order issues firmed. Industrials generally were strong.

Rails averaged more than a point higher; gains ranged from one to just over two.

Profit-taking flurries failed to seriously intimidate an optimistic bond market today and the forward march was resumed. Sales totaled $12,904,000, par value.

Although the outlook for the carriers is none too good at the present time, secondary rail liens attracted much of the interest of the session. Gains ranging from one to as much as seven points were recorded by some loans.

The best of the utilities and industrials with gains of one to four or more points included bonds of American, Foreign Power, Goodyear, International Telephone, Portland General Electric.

The Germans again jumped into the forefront of the foreign brigade, most of their bonds attaining the highest prices of the past year or more. French and Italian loans were steady. German Government 5 1-2's were the heaviest traded of the session, 340 of them changing hands at a gain of 3-8 of a point.

CANADIAN DOLLAR AND POUND RATES

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (CP). — In sympathy with the stronger tone in New York, foreign exchange moved higher here today. Pound sterling rose .0105 to $3.7743, while the United States dollar was up 1-8 at 12 9-16 per cent premium.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (CP).—Pound sterling closed 5-8 cent stronger on the foreign exchange today, at $3.35 3-8 for cables, and the Canadian dollar ended the session 1-16 cent off, at 88 13-16 cents (U.S. premium of 12 9-16 per cent).

Sterling, which opened at $3.34 15-16, reached a high for the day of 3.35 9-16, and a low for the session of $3.34 3-4. The dollar started the day at 89 cents.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (CP). — Heavy receipts of eggs again arrived on the produce and dairy markets here today.

Arrivals totaled 2,202 cases as compared with 1,780 cases yesterday, both being the largest quantity received in a day since last October. Fresh graded eggs in car lots or less had an easier tone as the result of the heavy arrivals, slow demand and mild weather. Extras were quoted at 31 @ 32, firsts at 27 @ 28, and pullets at 26 @ 27 cents a dozen.

Butter held steady at 21 1-4 cents a pound for No. 1 finest grass make.

Cheese was unchanged, current Ontario at 9 1-2 @ 9 3-4 cents.

WHEAT PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Quotations at Winnipeg Recover Monday's Losses Following U.S. Markets

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10 (CP). — A last-hour bull market induced by gains at Chicago and Minneapolis left wheat values 1 3-8 to 1 1-4 higher on the grain exchange today. There were no factors in the market here to account for the sudden rise after dull trading earlier in the day.

May closed at 47 3-4; July at 48 1-2, and October at 50 1-8.

Export business in Manitoba was slim, and other support was indifferent for the greater part of the session. Stock markets were strong but other causes, apparently unknown, seemed to be responsible for the rise. Liverpool and Buenos Aires were fractionally lower.

Trading in cash wheat and coarse grain continued dull, and spreads were practically unchanged.

Mining Shares Give Strong Display at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, Jan. 10 (CP).—For the second successive day all trading records on the Montreal curb market were shattered as transfers touched an all-time high at 300,000 shares, 100,000 more than yesterday's record figure. The bulk of this business was in mining shares, Stadacona alone accounting for 100,000. The issue was in brisk demand, moving up to a new high at .04 3-4 before failing back to .03 7-8, where it closed with a net gain of 3-4.

The new life that has come to this adjunct of the Montreal Stock Exchange is the result of the management's determination to secure some of the Montreal business in mining stocks that normally flows through the Toronto Standard Stock & Mining Exchange. Sales on the exchange itself totaled a little over 6,000 shares.

The market displayed its sluggish condition in the face of the vigorous last-hour rally in New York and the only shares able to benefit were Canadian Pacific and a couple of utilities. The rail stock canceled a 1-4-point loss to finish 1-8 higher at 11 1-8. Both Montreal Power and Shawinigan closed 1-4 higher at 11 1-2. Consolidated Smelters was a bright feature throughout the day, finishing three points higher at 67.

Brazilian and International Nickel did not budge when New York began to rally and both closed 1-8 lower, the former at 9⅛ 1-2. Nickel at 9. Canadian Bronze declined 2 1-2 to 13 1-2, while Bank of Montreal yielded 2 to 185.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP).—Toronto Stock Exchange listings turned stronger with Wall Street and the wheat market in the last hour today and most of the early losses were wiped out. Volume was little over 5,000 shares.

Consolidated Smelters was in demand today with the exdividend date only two days away and it advanced 2 points to 67 1-2. The other interlisted shares were less buoyant. C.P.R. finished 1-8 up at 16 1-8. Brazilian off a fraction to 9 3-8 and International Nickel 1-8 stronger at 9 3-8. Ford was unchanged at 7 1-2.

The buying was fair in both Walkers issues and the common gained a fraction to 5 1-8, while the preferred finished unchanged at 9 3-8.

Interest in the oil group revived. Imperial at 9 1-8, B.A. at 8 1-8 and International Pete at 11 3-4 had fractional gains.

Bell Telephone led the utilities with a small advance and a turnover of 142 shares. B.C. Power "A" was down.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP).—Nearly 1,000,000 shares changed hands on the Standard Mining Market today to set a new top for volume since the market turned up last Summer. In recent sessions the list has broadened out to take in a number of new penny issues, and these have helped to swell the volume.

The best gains were recorded by Pioneer Gold, up 15 to 4.75, Hollinger, up 10 to 6.25, and Granda, up 5 to 1.48. Wright-Hargreaves advanced 4 to 3.85, while Lakeshore was off 15 to 33.50.

Weakness in the base metal shares was wiped out before the close. Noranda sold off to 20.25, recovered, and Nickel recovered from a low of $9 to close unchanged at 9.25. Falconbridge was off 5 to 2.05. Hudson's Bay was up 10 to 3.60, Sherritt 1-2 down at 39 and Ventures down 1 1-2 at 83.

SAMPLE OF GOLD ORE FROM PIONEER MINE VALUED AT $7,500

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP).—A sample from the latest strike of gold in the Pioneer Mine, in the Bridge River district, rather larger than a man's head, 40 per cent actual gold and valued at $7,500, has been taken east to New York.

Other samples not so large, but of similar richness, have been brought from the mine to Vancouver.

About $125,000 has been extracted from the pocket, it is stated. The ore is not put through the mill, but is separately melted down.

The pocket is between the seventh and eighth levels—but how far it continues between them can only be told when it is all blasted out.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

INDIGESTION FROM SIMPLE CAUSES

You suffer with "indigestion" and your doctor by the use of test-meals or the X-ray, or both, has been able to assure you that you have no ulcer, no cancer, no inflammation of the lining of the stomach.

As these are the three outstanding ailments in real or organic stomach trouble, it is, of course, very gratifying to know that you are free of them.

But what is causing your indigestion?

In the majority of cases, it is due to some faulty habit on your part—eating too rapidly, or swallowing large pieces of food, or not chewing your food sufficiently.

Dr. S. W. Patterson, London, reminds us that gulps of air are often swallowed with hurriedly taken food and drink, and give rise to distension of the stomach. There are some simple suggestions that should be followed, once it is definitely known that there is no organic trouble.

The practice of taking solid foods and fluids separately is a simple but often successful means of prevention.

The teeth should be examined and those found to be painful or infected removed and well-fitting artificial teeth supplied.

Pus swallowed from infected teeth and gums, tonsils, or the sinuses will readily interfere with the movements of the stomach and cause indigestion.

Another cause in perhaps twenty-five per cent of the cases is the use of coal-tar drugs for headaches, muscular pains, and fatigue.

Sometimes the meals are too close together and part of the previous meal is still lying in the stomach when the next meal is taken. This may be because of the naturally slow action of the stomach in removing food into the small intestine or because the individual is worried or tired.

A simple but effective method, mentioned before, to make sure of an empty stomach for meals is to lie down on the right side for about fifteen minutes before each meal, and anything lying in the stomach should drain or syphon out into the small intestine.

Don't suffer with indigestion. If there is no real liver or stomach trouble causing the trouble remember the above suggestions and try to locate and remove the cause.

COUNCIL HOLDS FINAL SESSION

Nanaimo Aldermen Protest Importation of British Coal in Resolution

NANAIMO, Jan. 10.—With Mayor Barsby presiding, and a full board of aldermen in attendance, the final meeting of the 1932 council was held last evening in the council chambers.

A petition presented by T. P. Wells, protesting against the present schedule of C.P.R. boats between Nanaimo and Vancouver, and asking a return to the old schedule in operation for fifteen years, was endorsed on motion of Alderman Dixon, who said the council had already taken action along the same lines some time previously.

The petition was signed by a long list of local merchants, travelers and others, with many travelers from Vancouver, Victoria and other British Columbia points lending support with their signatures.

The butchers' shop early closing amendment, By-Law No. 519, was reconsidered and finally adopted, the same course being taken with the Temporary Loan By-Law, No. 520.

The following motion was adopted: "Whereas large quantities of coal are being imported into this province from the United Kingdom, and whereas British Columbia produced coal is already glutted due to the competition of oil, and whereas coal mines in the province are steadily closing down; therefore be it resolved that this council enter a most emphatic protest against this condition, and urge upon the Dominion Government to take immediate and adequate steps to protect the coal mining industry of this province against this menace; and

"That the Provincial Government be urged to use its utmost endeavors with the Dominion Government to take the steps advocated above."

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the local members in the Dominion Parliament and the Provincial Legislature; to the Board of Trade, and to all municipal councils of the province for their support.

Alderman Cavalsky congratulated Mayor Barsby on his re-election for a second term by acclamation. Mayor Barsby returned his thanks and said he thanked the board for the manner in which they had worked with him all through the year, saying it had been a pleasure to have their co-operation in a hard year. He had read in the press that Vancouver, New Westminster and other cities had made up their sinking funds and met payments on bonds. He thought only fair Nanaimo should be accorded equal credit, as they had done the same.

On motion of Alderman Dixon, a vote of thanks was tendered the Western Fuel Corporation for blowing the curfew.

The minutes of the meeting were adopted and finis written to the work of the 1932 council.

CHURCH REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 10. — The annual meeting of the Garden City United Church, held in the church recently, was attended by a large number.

The report of the session was presented by H. James and that of the board of trustees by D. Sim, church treasurer. Both reports were very encouraging. Mr. James, superintendent, read the report of Sunday school activities, and evidence was given of progress in every department of the work. Special consideration was given to the work of the young people of the community, and in this connection Mrs. R. A. Scott presented the annual report from the Band of Hope; Mrs. Allan that of the C.G.I.T., and Rev. Mr. Allan the report of the Trail Rangers.

The reports from the Woman's Auxiliary and the Woman's Missionary Society were presented by Mrs. J. Hobden and Mrs. Raynor, and in each instance gratifying advance was made as compared with any previous year. In presenting a most interesting report from Garden City Church Choir, W. Woods, choir president, made special reference to the part of the choir members. Under the able leadership of J. Jones, they had been successful in securing the honor shield for smaller church choirs at the musical festival of 1932, and every effort was to be made whereby this honor might again be attained at the forthcoming competition.

The following board of stewards was elected for the church year, 1933: Messrs. W. Woods, P. Fryatt, J. Jones, J. Hobden and W. Pargiter.

At the annual meeting of the Garden City Sunday School the staff was re-elected for the coming year, with Mr. James as superintendent; Miss Lillian Reid, secretary; Miss Sangster, treasurer; Miss Stewart, librarian, and Miss Gladys Rudd, assistant librarian.

BRANCH REPORTS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

DUNCAN, Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of the Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion was held in the clubrooms, here, on Tuesday evening. The treasurer's financial reports showed that the branch is actually as strong today, financially, as it was a year ago. Comrade A. J. Castle outlined the activities of the relief committee during the past year, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the relief committee and helpers and to the Women's Auxiliary.

Comrade Duncan reported for the unemployment resolution committee, and also referred to the good work done during the year by the pension committee.

President F. W. Hitchcox, in his report of the year's activities, said that the branch had more than held its own, and taking things all round, it had been a successful year.

Comrade A. J. Castle installed newly-elected President J. E. Stillwell into office.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY NANAIMO BAND

NANAIMO, Jan. 10.—The Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band installed the following officers for the ensuing year: Honorary presidents, John Hunt, C. Reifel, and G. S. Pearson, M.P.P.; honorary vice-presidents, A. Newbury, R. T. Wilson, T. Booth, W. W. Lewis, and D. C. Macfarlane; band president, Matt Docherty; vice-president, P. Gregson; bandmaster, J. Spruston; assistant bandmaster, P. Wilson; secretary, W. Pashley; treasurer, H. Peters; librarian, W. Younghusband; instrument custodian, T. Higgins; outside trustees, Mayor and council; band trustees, M. Docherty, H. Peters and R. Wall; ways and means, P. Gregson, H. Foster and W. Pashley.

GAVE ADDRESS TO HORTICULTURISTS

SIDNEY, Jan. 10—At the monthly meeting of the North and South Saanich Horticultural Society, Major E. O. Wheeler, R.E.M.C., was the guest speaker.

Major Wheeler is an experienced mountaineer and was a valued member of the 1921 Mount Everest expedition.

Major Wheeler displayed views of the Rocky and Selkirk Ranges. The slides shown were the property of Major Wheeler's father, A. O. Wheeler, who has accumulated a valuable collection during his many years of work in the mountains. A. O. Wheeler is an original member of the Alpine Club.

Major Wheeler's address served to show the nearness in days' travel of the wonderland of the Canadian mountains.

Dr. William Newton moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker.

Shawnigan Association Has Successful Year—Good Supply of Books on Hand

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Jan. 10.—The ninth annual meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Library Association was held in the library on Monday afternoon. S. J. Heald was elected chairman of the meeting. The treasurer's report was read and showed a balance in the bank of $71.63. The total income for the year was $141.88. The secretary's report showed that subscribers patronized the library to the extent of 2,904 visits during the year; 4,675 books were issued, with an increased number of nonfiction books taken out; fifty-seven adult and ten juvenile subscribers made use of the library during the year.

Since the erection of the new building 1,000 books have been collected on the "permanent" shelves and the association enjoys a good service of books from the Victoria Public Library, the Provincial Libraries and a circulating library.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to all directors and to Mrs. Twist, Mason Hurley and G. S. Gibson for their assistance. The meeting re-elected the five directors, Mrs. Mason Hurley, Mrs. A. E. Wheelton, Mrs. Dyson, A. E. Wheelton and S. J. Heald.

At a meeting of the directors at the close of the regular meeting S. J. Heald was re-elected chairman, Mrs. Mason Hurley secretary, G. S. Gibson treasurer and Mrs. Dyson and Mrs. Wheelton joint librarians.

What Today Means

"CAPRICORN"

If January 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 a.m. to 10 a.m., from 11:30 a.m. to 12:50 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. The danger periods are from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 8:50 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

You will feel renewed on this January 11, your outlook on life will appear to be better and you will tackle your problems with replenished vigor. If conditions seem particularly difficult at this time, do not be surprised to receive help from some unexpected source. Old friends may come back into your life.

The child born on this January 11 will chafe under restraint of any sort. He will be unruly at school and difficult to control. Quick to grasp his school work, he will forget it as quickly. He will lack method in all that he does. He will put up a "bold front" and will bluff whenever he feels sure that he can get away with it. He must be made to know the importance of being sincere.

If January 11 is the date of your birth, you are inclined to be a disagreeable person, grouchy, and hard to get along with. You do not like people, you are not a student of human nature, and you do not care to mix with individuals or groups of people. You are a bit cynical. You are inclined to doubt people, rather than to open your heart and mind to them and trust. People find it difficult, sometimes impossible to be nice to you.

Born on January 11, you are aggressive in business and you do not let your conscience trouble you too much if a neat little profit is involved. You do not pull well in harness with others. Any type of work where you could get off by yourself would probably suit you. One of your finest traits is a great love of animals; truly, you are fond of them, particularly dogs. Often it would seem that you find in them a companionship that you cannot find in human beings. With them you show a surprisingly kind side of your nature, affectionate and understanding. To see an animal suffer seems to make your heart cry out. You would probably be happiest in some work where you could have many animals about you to supervise and to take care for. You do not take a great interest in your home or family if you have one.

Miss Ruth Thomas, who went to the Vancouver General Hospital to commence training, was a passenger also. Mr. Wilfred Anderton and Mr. Howard Sutton left for the U.B.C. later. Other stage passengers included Mr. Stanley Hodgins, from Merville, who left for Vancouver, and Mr. Warwick Revie, who has been transferred from Courtenay to Kamloops.

At the Theatres

COLUMBIA THEATRE The screen's most expressive hands are those of ZaSu Pitts, now appearing on the screen of the Columbia Theatre in a leading role of "Once in a Lifetime," Universal's uproariously funny satire on Hollywood film production. Theatregoers find it most interesting to watch Miss Pitts' use of her graceful hands, and to note how they express her emotions.

CAPITOL THEATRE The superbly spectacular and flawlessly faithful atmosphere of Ascot is an outstanding feature of "Lady Panniford's Folly," the Edgar Wallace racing drama showing for the last times today at the Capitol Theatre. It is justly claimed that this fidelity of turf atmosphere and incident has never been equaled in a British production, not only in connection with its finely photographed race for the Ascot Stakes, but also with its brilliant crowd scenes, its social ritual, and its general aggregation of by-play and incident. Herbert Marshall and Edna Best are the leading stars.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Herbert Marshall in "Lady Panniford's Folly."
Columbia—"Once in a Lifetime," starring Jack Oakie.
Dominion—Helen Hayes in "Farewell to Arms."
Empire—"Mr. Robinson Crusoe," starring Douglas Fairbanks.
Playhouse—"Chandu, the Magician," featuring Edmund Lowe.
Romano—Constance Bennett in "Lady With a Past."

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE The Fox film version of "Chandu the Magician," with Edmund Lowe in the title role, Irene Ware, Bela Lugosi, Herbert Mundin and others in the supporting cast, is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The plot was taken from the original radio broadcasts upon which the picture is based.

DOMINION THEATRE Three days were spent in testing costumes before the cameras before production started on the Frank Borzage production of "A Farewell to Arms," the feature at the Dominion Theatre. In this picture, from the novel by Ernest Hemingway, Helen Hayes wears the uniform of an English nurse; Gary Cooper and Adolphe Menjou are seen in Italian army uniforms.

EMPIRE THEATRE One of the principal actors in Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "Mr. Robinson Crusoe," now the feature attraction at the Empire, is Chief Tupa, of the district of Mahina Tahiti, who traces his ancestry back to the time when white men were unknown in the South Seas. Chief Tupa, an expert fisherman and diver, plays the part of the cannibal chief in the Fairbanks film and demonstrates an histrionic ability that may well be envied by any of Hollywood's trained character actors.

ROMANO THEATRE North and South stage another war in "Lady With a Past," the Constance Bennett starring picture now playing at the Romano Theatre. Ben Lyon, one of the star's admirers in the film, is an Atlanta, Georgia, boy. David Manners, who carries the other romantic lead as his chief rival, was born in Halifax, Canada, but was educated in New York City.

Planned Treat for Natives

HARRY Gerguson, self-styled "Prince Michael Romanoff," is shown being escorted to Ellis Island by detectives following his arrest in New York. He is the man who said he was coming to Canada to give the natives a treat. "Prince Mike" was captured after he had been recognized by a salesman in a fashionable tobacco shop where he went to buy his exclusive smoking mixture at $10 a pound. He is held by immigration authorities for possible deportation. But the "Prince" insists he is an American citizen.

COMPANY LEADERS TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

Apropos of the forthcoming visit of the Dumbells to the Royal Victoria Theatre all next week, Victorians are reminded that this is Capt. M. W. Plunkett's birthday anniversary, and it is also the natal day of the business manager of the company, G. G. Garrette, who has been identified with the organization since the first thought of consolidating the overseas concert unit into a touring theatrical company for Canada.

Mr. Garrette, who was in Victoria all last week arranging for the engagement here, is with the company in Vancouver this week, and he and Captain Plunkett will celebrate together for the first time in the fourteen years that the show has been on the road. In most previous seasons Mr. Garrette has been traveling two weeks ahead of the company, and they would be around Edmonton or Calgary at this time, while he would be either in Vancouver or here.

Followers of astrology would see positive proof that the stars provide destinies in the fact that the two persons who are most closely identified with the continued success of the Dumbells are Capricornians, born on January 11. The present year is also supposed to be their lucky year.

CHOIRS TO PRESENT CONCERT NEXT WEEK

An interesting concert will be held under the patronage of His Worship Mayor and Mrs. David Leeming by the combined Victoria Ladies' Choir and the Victoria Male Choir, in the High School on January 17.

A part of the well-rehearsed programme, consisting of the performance of the Liebeslieder Waltzes, will be given for the first time on the Pacific Coast. One of the Brahms waltzes, written as a solo for tenor, will be taken by Frank Tupman, one of Victoria's favorite high tenor voices. This part of the programme will be conducted by Ira Dilworth, conductor for the Ladies' Choir.

The Ladies' Choir alone will render the beautiful little cantata, "The Lady of Shallot." Mrs. Thelma Johns, the well-known soprano, will take the solo parts in this selection. The balance of the programme will be made up of several well-selected numbers from both choirs, which will be announced later. Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. Fraser will be the accompanists. Mayor Leeming will speak briefly at the commencement of the programme.

"CHEERY TREE INN"

"Cheery Tree Inn," "The Sign of the Spread Eagle"—how many quaint names pop in view as one motors through the country. And they give an old-fashioned touch to the modern roadhouse.

Our taverns in the early days were inspired, like most other things at that time, by the English ones. And tavern signs in England go back for their origin to the days of chivalry, whence they have a purely heraldic significance.

In mediaeval times the servants and retainers of a nobleman were expected to wear on their sleeves his coat-of-arms and tradesmen who were established on his lands to display them over their shops. This explains such apparently inconsistent signs as a fleur-de-lis over an Irish tavern or the Dove of Peace on a rowdy hostelry!

TOKIO, Jan. 10.—Admiral Keisuke Orada, Minister of the Navy, Monday tendered his resignation because of failing health. Admiral Mineo Osumi, naval minister in the Inukai Cabinet, was appointed his successor.

Licence Plates Lead in Sales

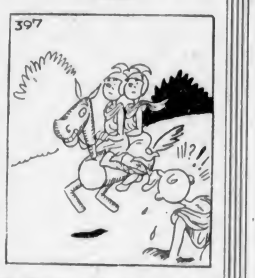

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10.—Licence plates have been selling two to one in comparison with stickers at the motor licence office, Vancouver courthouse, and 4,096 plates have been issued since January 3, and 2,004 stickers have been sold since they went on sale January 4. On Saturday the demand was fairly even, 546 plates, as against 531 stickers.

DISAPPOINTED BUT GOT TWO DOLLARS

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10.—Safeblowers failed in an attempt to force a strongbox in the Dominion Meat Market, West Fourth, on Sunday night. A charge of nitroglycerine had been used in an attempt to blow open the door of the safe, but it had not been properly placed and failed in its purpose. Before departing from the store the robbers took $2 from the cash register.

Progress Is Made in Telephone Extensions

Past Year Has Been Marked by Many Expansions, Giving Victoria Increased Connections With Outside World

Despite business conditions, the world telephone network continued to expand during 1932. Telephone service was extended from North America to Egypt, South Africa, Portugal, the Bahama Islands, Peru, Venezuela, Colombia and Siam. Victoria can now reach more than 30,000,000 telephones, which is more than 90 per cent of all the telephones in the world.

In a battle against conditions which were resulting in a net loss of telephones and were keeping long-distance lines below normal, the B.C. Telephone Company and its associate, the Northwest Telephone Company, proceeded with a number of extensions and improvements, which included:

EXTENSIONS MADE

Opening of long-distance telephone service to Prince Rupert, Prince George and a logging camp at Claydon Bay, by means of radio links connecting with the land lines at Campbell River.

Purchase from the Dominion Government of the telephone system in the Gulf Islands, and also the system at Sooke, on Vancouver Island.

Extension of the lines of the B.C. Telephone Company to Menzies Bay, above Campbell River, and to Forbes Landing.

Opening of service to points on the P.G.A. Railway as far as Bridge River station, and also in the Bridge River Valley.

Opening of a direct circuit from Vancouver to Nelson.

Opening of direct circuits from Victoria to Chemainus, Courtenay, Cumberland and Port Alberni.

As the result of additions made during 1932, thirteen transatlantic liners can now be reached by telephone from Victoria as they ply across the ocean. The ship-to-shore service is also being given to one vessel on the New York-Bermuda run.

During the year Vancouver originated the longest commercial telephone call in the world when an importer called up Melbourne, Australia, a telephone distance of more than 18,000 miles.

During 1932 people in British Columbia talked to Italy, Norway, Hawaii and Bermuda for the first time.

Early in 1932 an All-Canadian telephone line was opened from coast to coast. This was the largest telephone project ever undertaken in the Dominion, the British Columbia section alone costing a million dollars.

STRIKERS IN CLASH WITH FRENCH POLICE

DUNKIRK, France, Jan. 10.—Two thousand striking dock workers clashed with mounted police Monday, hurling bottles and chairs. Police charged and some of the strikers were injured. There were many arrests.

EARTHQUAKE IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—A slight local earthquake was registered at Dominion Observatory Sunday afternoon. Tremors lasted for five minutes, but no damage was reported. The disturbance was felt at Kingsmere, in the Gatineau Hills, fifteen miles north of Ottawa, and also in the Glebe district of Ottawa.

FRUITERER HELD UP

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP).—Two armed bandits held up W. Gogolas in his fruit store in the 500 block Howe Street shortly after 9 o'clock tonight and escaped in a car with $35. Police believe that the car used by the robbers was a stolen one.
